The College

Queens, a church-related liberal arts college for women, is located in Charlotte, North Carolina. Its programs are accredited by the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges and the National Association of Schools of Music.

History

Queens was founded in 1857 as the Charlotte Female Institute, then located on College Street near the center of the city. For five years after 1891 it was called the Seminary for Girls, and upon affiliation with the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina in 1896, was known as the Presbyterian College for Women. In 1912, anticipating the move to its present campus in the Myers Park residential area in 1914, it became Queens College.

That name revived pre-Revolutionary traditions, for in 1771 a group of North Carolina colonists sought a royal charter for Queens College to be located in the town of Charlotte which was named for the British queen, Charlotte of Mecklenburg. George III refused the petition, doubting the wisdom of creating an institution to perpetuate non-conformist views favored by the Scotch-Irish Presbyterians who had settled in piedmont Carolina. A school was chartered in 1773, however, under the unusual title of Queens Museum. During the Revolution it sympathized with the colonial cause and became known as the Liberty Hall Academy. The academy's post-Revolutionary history is sketchy, but in 1821 the Male and Female Academy Corporation was chartered to operate the Liberty Male Academy, the precursor of Davidson College, and the Charlotte Female Academy, the precursor of the Charlotte Female Institute.

In 1930, Queens became related to the Presbyterian Synod of South Carolina through a merger with Chicora College, Columbia, S. C. (formerly in Greenville). Since Chicora itself had earlier merged with the College for Women, Columbia, Queens continues the tradition of two South Carolina women's colleges. With the creation of the Synod of the Southeast in 1973, Queens' official church relationship was extended to include Presbyterians in Georgia as well as those in the Carolinas.

The Board of Trustees holds title to the property of the college and is responsible for Queens' total program. The 30-member board—composed of business, professional, religious, and alumnae leaders—is elected by the Synod of North Carolina (10 members), the Synod of the Southeast (8), trustees (8), and the Queens College Alumnae Association (4).

Purpose

As a small church-related, liberal arts, women's college located in a growing metropolitan community, Queens is committed to certain specific purposes and offers some distinctive educational opportunities.

Queens understands the liberally educated person to be one who possesses the skills of learning, thought, communication, and judgment; who seeks the rewards of self-discipline in a free society and is engaged in a life-long pursuit of personal, social, cultural, and religious goals.

In a time of large impersonal institutions, Queens remains a small college that is concerned with the individual student. Its low ratio of faculty to students, its advising and teaching by full-time faculty members rather than graduate assistants, its close individualized instruction, and the warm friendliness of the student body create a sense of belonging and make possible great personal and intellectual growth.

Queens provides a curriculum tailored to the personal goals and needs of the individual student. It offers study programs abroad as well as government internships, both state and federal. There are programs in cooperation with the Presbyterian Hospital, Charlotte, and marine biology laboratories on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. There is a junior year exchange program with Davidson College; and, through membership in the Charlotte Area Educational Consortium, students have the opportunity of enrolling in any of 10 other colleges and universities in the area if they desire courses not available at Queens.

Queens is a women's college. Traditionally many women have had unfulfilled expectations of what they can achieve in "a man's world." Queens puts stress on the importance of women and the need for them to reach their highest potential. As a women's college it provides opportunities for leadership in its college life: students participate in campus organizations, serve on faculty committees, and are represented in meetings of the trustees. They find strong role-models to emulate in the large number of talented women in its faculty and administration. And the college is able in its curriculum and special programs to stress issues particularly pertinent to women, and to do this in a way that is rarely possible at coeducational colleges and universities.

Today, women need to have job skills and want to be prepared for career opportunities, and Queens offers students the chance to discover these areas for which they are best qualified. Adjacent to the campus is the Presbyterian Guidance Center which offers personal and career counseling to the students. Queens has the good fortune to be favorably located in a major metropolitan area, and it has internship programs which allow students to explore career options and gain experience by working in the city's businesses, churches, hospitals, museums, governmental agencies, and professional offices.

In an age of constant change, uncertain standards, and restlessness, Queens seeks to develop self-discipline and responsibility in its students. Through the religious commitment of its faculty and administration and through the type of student body this church-related college attracts, Queens provides a climate and opportunity for the growth and nourishment of lasting religious values.

Throughout its long history of more than a century and a half, Queens has pursued steadfastly its goal of being a small, academically superior, church-related college that cares about the education of women.

WONDERFUL COPENHAGEN

Student Life

Queens College is aware that a major part of a student's education takes place outside the classroom in day-to-day living experiences and campus activities. Through group participation and interaction, the student comes to know herself as an individual, to realize her opportunities, and to be a creative member of the college community. To stimulate this process the college encourages student initiative and responsibility through student government, the honor system, organizations, and activities.

Honor Code

The Honor Code is one of the cherished possessions of Queens College and is of fundamental importance in the educational experience.

The Honor Code regulates all phases of college life and is binding on all members of the community. The Code is based on three basic principles: (1) truthfulness at all times; (2) respect for the property of others; (3) honesty in tests, examinations, term papers and all other academic assignments.

When a member of the college community signs the Honor Code, it is an acceptance of the responsibilities of the honor system. This enables that member to enjoy the freedom and privilege of living in a community governed by mutual trust and respect.

Student Government Association

S.G.A. is a means for student self-government. It is organized around major concerns of campus life and provides students experience in planning and administering cultural, social, recreational and religious activities. Students also serve as voting members of faculty standing committees.

Religious Life

Queens faculty and administration have made a religious commitment, which provides a climate and opportunity for growth and nourishment of lasting religious values. Students are given the opportunity to develop their own religious beliefs by voluntarily taking part in the weekly campus chapel services, fellowships and retreats.

Cultural events

A student committee plans a speakers series, a film series and a concert series to be presented throughout the academic year. Also contributing to the cultural program are events such as dramatic productions, art exhibits and recitals.

Social Activities and Sororities

The Social Activities Committee coordinates special weekends, dances and recreational activities. The Pit is the ideal place to gather for a mixer; the Web is a comfortable lodge complete with kitchen, fireplace and T.V.; and the Student Center has a coffee house atmosphere, where folk singers and bands entertain regularly.

Five national social sororities—Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Chi Omega, Kappa Delta, and Phi Mu—provide additional activities for their members.

Athletics

Queens offers a varied program in athletics, offering every student an opportunity to take part in a wide range of sports. For those students wishing to take part in competitive sports, they may play on class teams and/or intramural teams. Classes compete against each other in swimming, volleyball, softball, table tennis and basketball. Intramural teams compete with other colleges in gymnastics, volleyball, tennis and swimming.

Publications

Queens College has three periodicals published by the students. The Coronet, the Queens College yearbook, is published annually, and provides a pictorial and literary record of the year's events and activities. The Queens Current, the student newspaper on campus, is published regularly to keep the college informed of campus events and news, and to serve as a forum for an exchange of ideas among students, faculty, and administrators. The Signet, the college literary magazine, is published at least once a year, and illustrates the creative writing and visual artistry talents of the Queens community and the public.

Honoraries, Honors and Awards

Several organizations have been established at Queens to recognize high achievement both in scholarship and in campus leadership.

Delta Omicron is an international music fraternity for women who attain high scholarship in music and possess the potential for superior musicianship.

Marshals are students who rank first and second in academic standing in the senior, junior, and sophomore classes and who serve as ushers at official college events which require academic processions.

Orb and Sceptre is a senior organization which recognizes those students who have shown outstanding leadership, scholarship, and service to the college community.

Sigma Mu is a regional organization composed of faculty and students. Its purpose is to recognize high scholastic attainment for seniors and juniors and to encourage independent research.

Sigma Upsilon is a fraternity for writers. Members are selected from the junior and senior classes, the basis of selection being literary ability, interest, and active participation in writing.

Valkyrie is an organization of students from the sophomore class who have been selected because of outstanding leadership, citizenship, and scholarship exhibited during the freshman year.

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges recognizes note-worthy student leaders on compuses throughout the country and registers them in a national collegiate publication. The students are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and cooperation in educational and extra-curricular activities, and the promise of future contributions to those areas.

In addition to membership in campus honoraries, there is a variety of honors and awards. Some of these are: the scholastic honors—the Dean's List and graduating with honors; the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award for outstanding service; the Charlotte Panhellenic Awards to an outstanding freshman and junior; creative writing awards; and several athletic awards.

Student Services

Housing

Queens views on-campus living as an integral part of the educational experience. Students who are candidates for an undergraduate degree will live in residence unless: (1) they are residing with their parents or guardian; (2) they are married; (3) they have been granted special permission for other residence by the Dean of Students.

There are four residence halls on campus, each with its own distinctive style. They range in size from housing 36 to 140 students and in style from traditional double rooms to suites.

All freshmen are assigned rooms and roommates by the Dean of Students. Other students choose their rooms in an order determined by their non-refundable reservation fee and by lot.

The College insurance program is designed to provide protection for college property and does not include the property of students or others. It is suggested that students and their parents should review their insurance to be sure that coverage is extended to include personal effects while at college.

Health Services

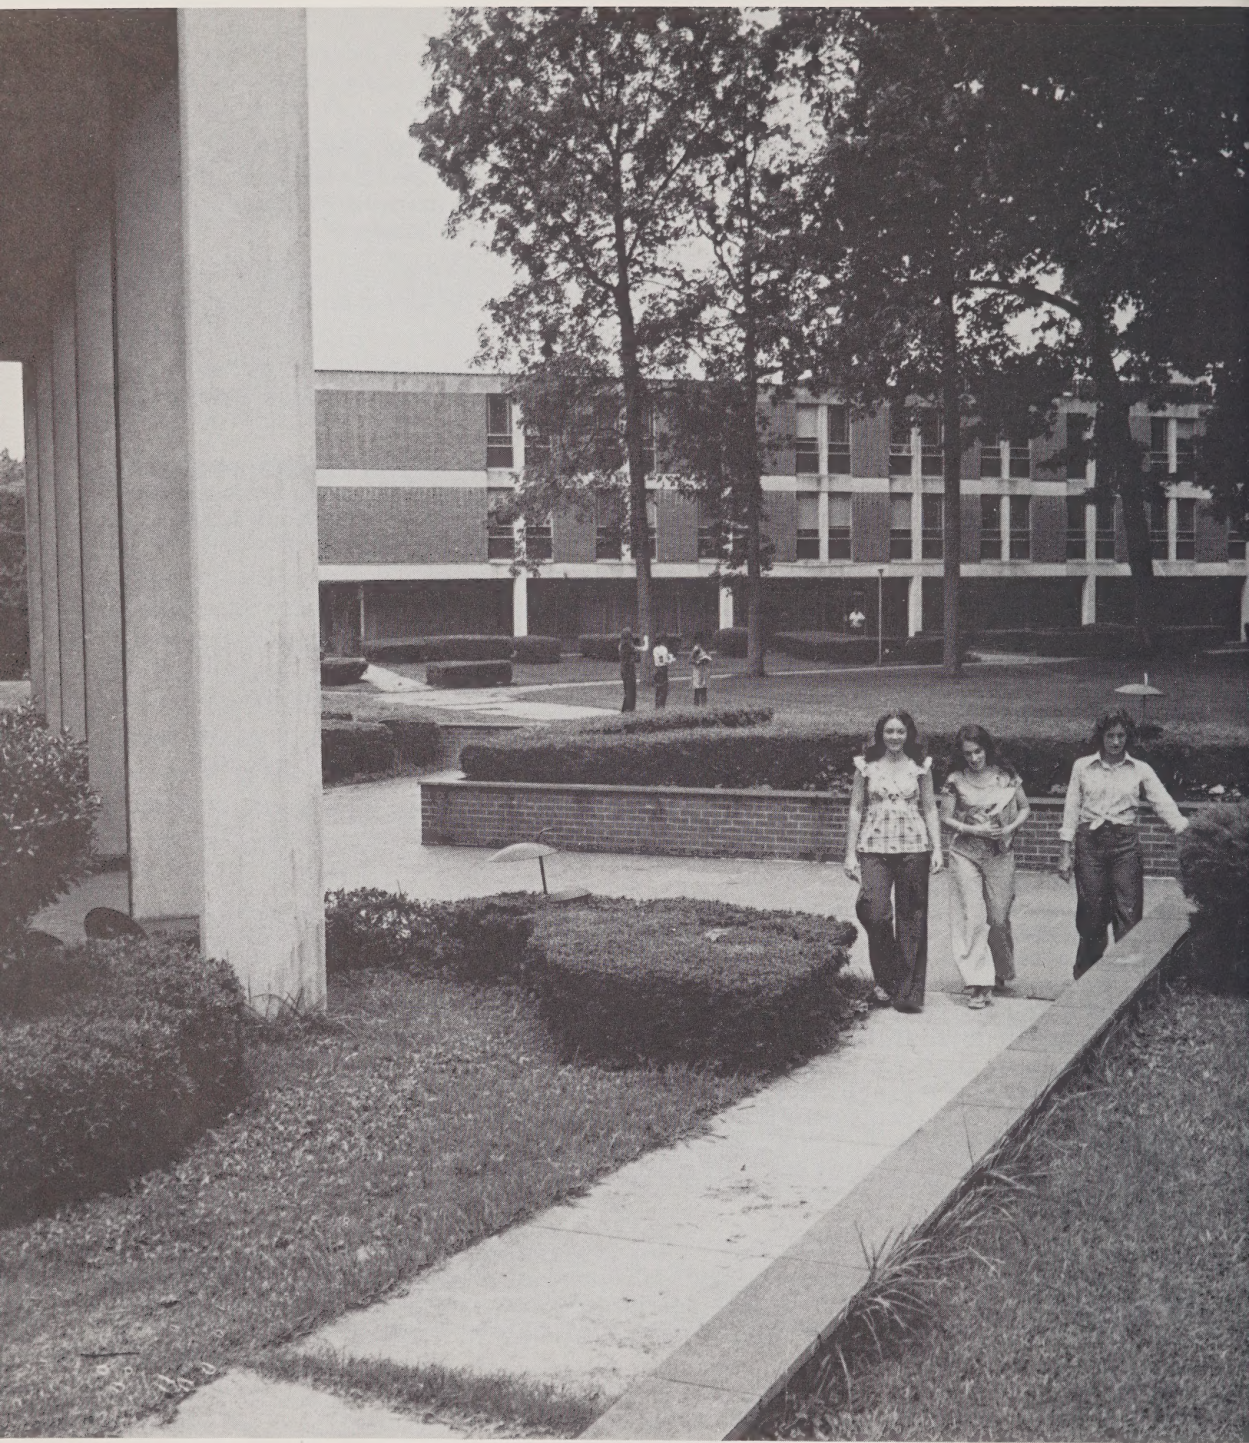
The Irwin McKay Infirmary provides clinic facilities and beds for 10 patients on campus. It is staffed by nurses 24 hours a day, Monday-Friday at all times the residence halls are open. The college physician holds office hours every weekday without charge.

Students who have been accepted for admission to Queens are required prior to entrance to submit a medical history and physical examination form provided by the college.

A voluntary health insurance plan is available through the college. Information regarding this plan will be sent to each student during the summer.

Career and Life Planning

The counseling and services of the career and life planning office are available to all students—freshmen through seniors—and also to alumnae. Information is available about career opportunities and openings; curriculum choices in light of the vocational objectives; and job, graduate school, and fellowship applications. Conferences with seniors are scheduled during Term I. Seniors establish placement credential files which are sent without charge to prospective employers. Career seminars and workshops on resumes, letter-writing, and interviewing techniques are held throughout the year; recruiters from major companies interview on campus; a two-day recruiting program is held in cooperation with six other colleges in the Carolinas. The office also helps students find part-time jobs off campus and places and advises students in their search for summer employment.



ADMISSIONS/COSTS/FINANCIAL AID

Admissions

Queens College admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all rights, privileges, programs and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the college. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other college administered programs.

For Freshmen

Students applying to Queens should follow a college preparatory program in high school. Four years of English, two years of mathematics, two years of a foreign language, two years of social science, and one year of a laboratory science are considered basic preparation.

In evaluating an application, the office of admissions considers the applicant's high school record, especially the quality and amount of college preparatory work; recommendations from the secondary school; College Entrance Examination Board test scores (SAT) or The American College Testing Program (ACT); and the student's own stated objectives. A personal visit to the campus is the best way for a student to discover Queens. A campus interview is required.

All applicants who have taken Spanish or French in secondary school and who wish to continue study in that particular language at Queens should take a language achievement test for purposes of placement. SAT, ACT and Achievement applications and information about testing dates may be obtained from secondary school counselors or from CEEB, Box 592, Princeton, N. J., 08540. Queens' CEEB code number is 5560. ACT applications and information about testing dates may also be obtained from secondary school counselors or from ACT Records, P. O. Box 451, Iowa City, Iowa 52240. Queens College code number is 3148.

For Transfers

Queens welcomes transfer students from other colleges and universities. Applicants must request their own transcripts from each institution attended to be forwarded to the Office of Admissions. For courses completed at other institutions, credit usually will be transferred if the grade earned is C or better. Credits over 10 years old must be submitted for approval to the Student Qualifications Committee following the successful completion of six credit hours at Queens.

For Readmissions

A degree candidate who has withdrawn in good standing and who wishes to return to Queens may apply for readmission by submitting an application. Transcripts of all work attempted at other institutions must be sent to the Office of Admissions.

For Special Students

Students who are not candidates for degrees but who wish to enroll for credit may apply as special students. Generally, special students who do not hold a bachelor's degree are limited to a cumulative total of 15 credit hours. Anyone holding a bachelor's degree is allowed the privilege of unlimited credit. The availability of space may limit enrollment in some courses. Special students must maintain a C average to continue their enrollment.

For Summer School

Students interested in attending summer school at Queens must apply as special students and should contact the Office of the Dean for further information.

For Advanced Standing

Students who have completed college level work in their secondary schools should take the appropriate Advanced Placement (AP) test administered by the CEEB. Queens grants advanced placement and course credit automatically if the student scores either four or five on such tests. Advanced placement is also granted for a score of three, but decisions on the amount of credit to be awarded are made by the dean of the college in consultation with the department in which credit is granted. Advanced placement in English is given for literature courses only.

Advanced placement in biology, chemistry, foreign language and music is determined also by acceptable achievement on examinations taken at Queens at the beginning of the fall term.

Students with an SAT verbal score of 550 or above are exempt from the Area I distributed requirement in English. Students seeking advanced placement, credit or exemption are responsible for submitting a written request to the associate dean before their first term registration.

Queens also awards credit and advanced placement to students who score satisfactorily on approved subject level tests of the College Level Examination Program (CLEP). Credit will not be granted if it duplicates credit already earned. Neither grades nor quality points will be awarded, nor may CLEP credits satisfy the final 30 hours required for graduation from Queens. A recording fee of $10 for the first course and $5 for each additional course accepted will be charged. Students who wish further information about CLEP should write to the assistant dean of the college.

For Accelerated Admissions

Students with superior records are encouraged to apply for admission during their junior year in high school. They must submit transcripts, recommendations, and SAT scores or ACT scores and must schedule a conference with an admissions counselor. In some states local school authorities will grant a high school diploma after a year of college work: any such agreement is the responsibility of the student and the local authorities. A student may also obtain a high school equivalency certificate by examination.

For the student who has made plans for graduate school or professional study, accelerated admissions is one way of shorteningthe time before she can begin her career.

For Dual Enrollment

Any student who is a junior or senior in a Charlotte-Mecklenburg area secondary school may enroll for courses at Queens during any term when recommended by the secondary school. Credit earned under the dual enrollment program may be used at Queens or another institution as college credit when the student enrolls as a degree candidate.

For Campus Visits

Prospective students and their families are urged to visit Queens. They are welcome at any time but will find visits more interesting if scheduled when the college is in session. The admissions office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on weekdays throughout the year and until noon on Saturdays by appointment.

Each year a series of special campus visitation overnights is scheduled for prospective students. Interested students should write to the office of admissions for details of these programs.

In Summary

While there are no deadlines for applications, prospective freshmen should apply for admission early in the senior year of high school. Application forms should be obtained from the office of admissions and should be returned with a non-refundable $15 application fee. Special students submit a $5 non-refundable application fee. Upon receipt of the completed application, Queens requests the student's transcripts and recommendations from the secondary school. Transfer students must request transcripts from each college attended.

The office of admissions will act on an application as soon as all information has been received. Normally, the processing time requires no more than three weeks. Accepted students are requested to accept Queens' offer of admission within 30 days of acceptance notification.

Freshmen, transfer students, special students, and high school students seeking dual enrollment may apply for admission at the beginning of any of Queens' three terms which begin in September, January, and February.

Costs

While the Board of Trustees reserves the right to adjust the fee schedules at Queens at any time, the following basic fees have been established for 1976-77.

(Comprehensive fees cover the three terms in the academic year.)

Resident Student Comprehensive Fee for 1976-77 $3,175.00*

Includes tuition, infirmary, and other services, and double room dormitory accommodations for regular full-time students registered for nine or more credit hours each in Terms I and II, and for three or more hours in Inter-Term. Additional tuition fees are charged for over 16 credit hours.

Commuting Student Comprehensive Fee for 1976-77 $2,400.00*

Includes tuition, infirmary, and other services for regular full-time commuting students registered for nine or more hours in Terms I and II, and for three or more hours in Inter-Term. Additional tuition fees are charged for over 16 credit hours.

Activity Fee for resident and commuting students $ 80.00

*NOTE: For information concerning the $200 Legislative Tuition Grant, North Carolina students should refer to North Carolina Programs under Financial Aid.

Queens offers three meal plans for the convenience of its students. Resident students are required without exception to take one of the meal plans offered.

	Annual Rate
Plan I (21 meals per week)	$595.00
Plan II (15 meals per week)	$565.00
Plan III (10 meals per week)	$535.00

Meal plans II and III include any 15 or 10 of the 21 meals offered during the week. At registration each term, resident students will select and pay for the meal plan they prefer since payments for meals are not included in the deferred payment schedule. Meal tickets will be issued.

Part-Time Fees

Part-time students taking eight or less credit hours pay tuition at $80 per credit hour and do not pay the student activity fee.

Auditing Fee

For non-degree students and Presbyterian Hospital Nursing Students the auditing fee is $50 per course.

Special Student Fees

Special students holding a bachelor's degree and high school students registered for dual enrollment pay tuition at $35 per credit hour. Any student who holds a bachelor's degree but pursues a second degree (or major) at Queens will be charged the normal tuition rate. All other special students pay the comprehensive or part-time fees as determined by full-time or part-time status.

Special Fees

For certain services the college charges additional fees.

Non-refundable Application Fee for Degree Candidates	$ 15.00
Non-refundable Application fee for Non-Degree Candidates	5.00
Late Registration Fee	15.00
Charge for Withdrawing from a course after the Drop-Add Period	5.00
Graduation Fee, including rental of cap, gown and hood and all placement services	30.00
Transcript Fee	1.00
Single dormitory accommodation (per year)	150.00
Refundable room damage deposit (resident students only)	50.00

Payable with room reservation fee.

Course Fees for Terms I and II

All fees are subject to change.

Although this is a short term, the number of lessons must be the same as in Terms I and II if students are to receive college credit. Fees, therefore, are the same.*

Non-College Music Fees

A separate fee schedule for the non-college applied music program may be obtained from the department of music.

Other Expenses

The cost of books and supplies varies with courses taken, but the average expense is $100 per year.

Non-college expenses such as travel, clothing, entertainment, and incidentals vary according to individual student needs. Students joining sororities will have additional costs for initiation, dues, and special assessments.

Laundry is not included in the general fee.

In matters of health care the student is responsible for paying any fees for special visits, consultations, special medicines, and hospitalizations.

Regulations Regarding Payments

Upon signing the application for admission, the parent or guardian, or the applicant if not a dependent, accepts as binding and contractual all fees and regulations set forth in the catalogue.

Payment for Academic Year

All fees for the academic year are charged at the time of registration at the beginning of the first term. Payments must be made for the full year or alternate arrangements made with the treasurer to pay the account according to a deferred payment schedule.

Fees for Attending One Term

Students registering for only Term I or II are charged fees for that term only. Inter-Term fees are included in the fees for Term I or Term II.

General Information Concerning Fees

A student is not permitted to attend classes until satisfactory arrangements have been made to meet all financial obligations. Diplomas, certificates, grades, and transcripts are granted only when the student's accounts have been paid in full. Where a note is offered, it is accepted with the understanding that the account is not considered settled until the note is paid.

No discount or scholarship award may be applied against the $150 initial deposit.

Students who withdraw from the college during the academic year on their own initiative will be charged for the full term during which they withdraw. Students suspended by the college for other than academic reasons are responsible for paying fees for the full year. Students who withdraw from college during the academic year as a result of illness will have their fees prorated as of the date of withdrawal provided their physicians recommend withdrawal.

All payments and communications concerning business transactions should be addressed to the treasurer, and checks should be made payable to Queens College.

Deferred Payment Schedule

The college offers the following deferred payment schedule for 1976-77. Variances from this schedule may be discussed with the treasurer of the college.

Dates Due	Resident Student	Commuting Student
April 1—returning student
Non-refundable reservation deposit	$ 150.00	$ 50.00
May 1—new students
Non-refundable reservation deposit	$ 150.00	$ 50.00
Refundable room damage deposit	50.00
At registration—General Fee	$2,025.00	$1,550.00
Student Activity Fee	80.00	80.00
January 10—General Fee	$1,000.00	$ 800.00

Queens participates in the program of the Insured Tuition Payment Plan of the Richard C. Knight Agency, Inc., 6 St. James Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts 02116, and The Tuition Plan, Inc., Concord, New Hampshire 03310. These organizations specialize in financing education so that parents who wish may meet academic expenses monthly. Information is available from the Business Office of the college.

Financial Aid

Financial Aid

Queens realizes that as a private institution which places quality of the educational experience above other considerations, the cost of attending Queens becomes a matter of overriding importance for many families. Applicants should not hesitate to apply for financial assistance. Queens College has in the past been able to meet most of the demonstrated need with a financial aid package and welcomes the opportunity to work with students and their parents. Although most awards are based on financial need, some aid is awarded without regard to need. These awards are based on the academic and leadership merits of applicants and are awarded to students whether or not they have demonstrated need.

Federal Programs

Basic Educational Opportunity Grants (BEOG) are available with grants up to $1,400 (less family contribution). To be considered for a Basic Grant, a student must submit—on forms available from high school guidance counselors and from the College—a BEOG application to Basic Grants, Box A, Iowa City, Iowa 52240. Within four weeks the applicant will receive a notification of eligibility. The applicant then sends this notification to Queens' director of financial aid who within the guidelines of the BEOG program will determine the amount of BEOG support for which the student is eligible.

Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG) are available on an annual basis to undergraduate students with exceptional need. These grants range from $200 to $1,500 and may be renewed from year to year but may not exceed $4,000 during four years. Grants in any one year may not exceed half of the student's total assistance program.

The College Work Study (CWS) program assists qualified students to meet educational expenses through employment on campus during the academic year at a specified hourly rate. Eligibility for this program depends upon financial need and evidence of academic or creative promise.

The National Direct Student Loan (NDSL) program permits students with established need to borrow as much as $2,500 during their freshman and sophomore years, and up to a total of $5,000 during their undergraduate programs. These loans bear a three percent annual interest rate during repayment. Repayment begins nine months after the borrower ceases to be at least a half-time student and may extend over a period of 10 years. If the borrower enters certain public-service occupations, the loan may be forgiven.

The amount of funds available to Queens students under SEOG, CWS, and NDSL programs is determined by allocations made to the college each year by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare which are dependent upon the amount of funding students are eligible for under the guidelines of these programs.

The Guaranteed Loan program permits students upon recommendation of the college, to borrow from a bank or other financial institution—with a federal government guarantee of repayment—as much as $2,500 a year with a $7,500 maximum for undergraduates. Terms for these loans and of guaranteed interest arrangements may be obtained from participating banks or agencies in the state where the student resides. The College will advise the student in this process.

North Carolina Programs

The North Carolina Scholarship Program is provided to Queens College by an act of the North Carolina General Assembly. Scholarships are available to full-time undergraduate students who are legal residents of North Carolina. This fund assists qualified students who demonstrate need. North Carolina Legislative Tuition Grants in the amount of $200 per academic year are available to North Carolina residents enrolled as fulltime students at Queens.

North Carolina offers two programs through College Foundations, Inc. of Raleigh, North Carolina.

The North Carolina Insured Student Loan Program permits state residents enrolled as full-time students to borrow through the College Foundation, Inc., on the basis of a needs analysis, as much as $2,500 per academic year for an aggregate of $10,000 (including undergraduate and graduate study) at seven percent annual interest. Loans are insured and under certain conditions the Office of Education pays the interest on these loans during the in-school and grace periods.

The James E. and Mary Z. Bryan Foundation Student Loan Plan permits North Carolinians enrolled in full-time undergraduate programs to borrow, through College Foundations, Inc., as much as $1,500 per school year for a four-year total of $7,500. The interest rate is one percent annually during the in-school and grace periods and six percent annually during the repayment period. Students may apply for a Bryan Foundation Loan without submitting a parents' confidential statement. Application forms may be obtained from the Queens' director of financial aid.

College Programs

Worth Stewart Scholarship was established in 1976 by the Board of Directors of the Stewart and Everett Theatres in memory of Mr. Worth Stewart, one of the founders of Stewart and Everett Theatres, Incorporated. The scholarship is to be awarded annually to a student who evidences merit as well as need.

Queens Scholarships are awarded annually to the most outstanding students admitted to the freshman class. Recipients are selected on the basis of academic achievement, character, and leadership potential. These scholarships carry an honorarium of $100. Queens Scholars are chosen by the faculty Honors Committee and office of admissions.

Departmental Scholarships are available to a limited number of freshmen and upperclassmen with outstanding achievement in specialized areas. These scholarships are currently available in the departments of biology, chemistry, and music.

Trustee Leadership Awards are available annually to new students who have exhibited leadership in high school activities and who show potential for further developing those leadership qualities at Queens. The amount of these awards may vary but each is renewable.

Carol G. Belk Scholarship Awards of $1,000 each are available annually to outstanding new students. Recipients are chosen on the basis of their leadership records in school and community, academic ability, and potential for continuing leadership at Queens. Awards are renewable.

South Carolina Scholarship Awards of $1,000 each are available annually to outstanding new students from South Carolina. Recipients are chosen on the basis of their leadership records in school and community, academic ability, and potential for continuing leadership at Queens. Awards are renewable.

Presbyterian Scholars (Southeast) are chosen from outstanding freshmen who are active members of a Presbyterian Church of the Synod of the Southeast (South Carolina and Georgia). Each scholarship carries an award of $1,000. Awards are renewable.

Dana Scholarships are awarded annually to students in each of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. The student must maintain outstanding records for scholarship and leadership. These scholarships range from a $100 honorarium to a maximum indicated by need. Recipients are chosen by the faculty Honors Committee.

National Merit Scholarships are offered each year to National Merit finalists who desire to attend Queens.

Tuition Remission

Tuition remission is available to any full-time student who is the dependent of an active minister. Dependents of active ministers of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., Synods of North Carolina and the Southeast, will receive a $600 tuition remission. Dependents of active ministers in all other synods of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. will receive a $400 tuition remission. Dependents of active ministers of all other faiths will receive a tuition remission of $200.

To Apply

To apply for financial assistance students must have been admitted to Queens as degree candidates and must complete and submit two applications forms:

1. The Queens College Application for Financial Aid to be submitted to the Director of Financial Aid, Queens College, Charlotte, North Carolina 28274.

2. The Parents Confidential Statement (PCS) to be submitted to the College Scholarship Service, P. O. Box 176, Princeton, New Jersey 08540. All forms are available from Queens' Office of Financial Aid.

The Parents Confidential Statement form and the BEOG application form may also be obtained from high school guidance counselors.

Applications for financial aid for 1977-78 should be submitted by entering students as soon as possible during the senior year. Notification of action by the college will be sent after Queens receives an evaluation of the applicant's need from the College Scholarship Service.

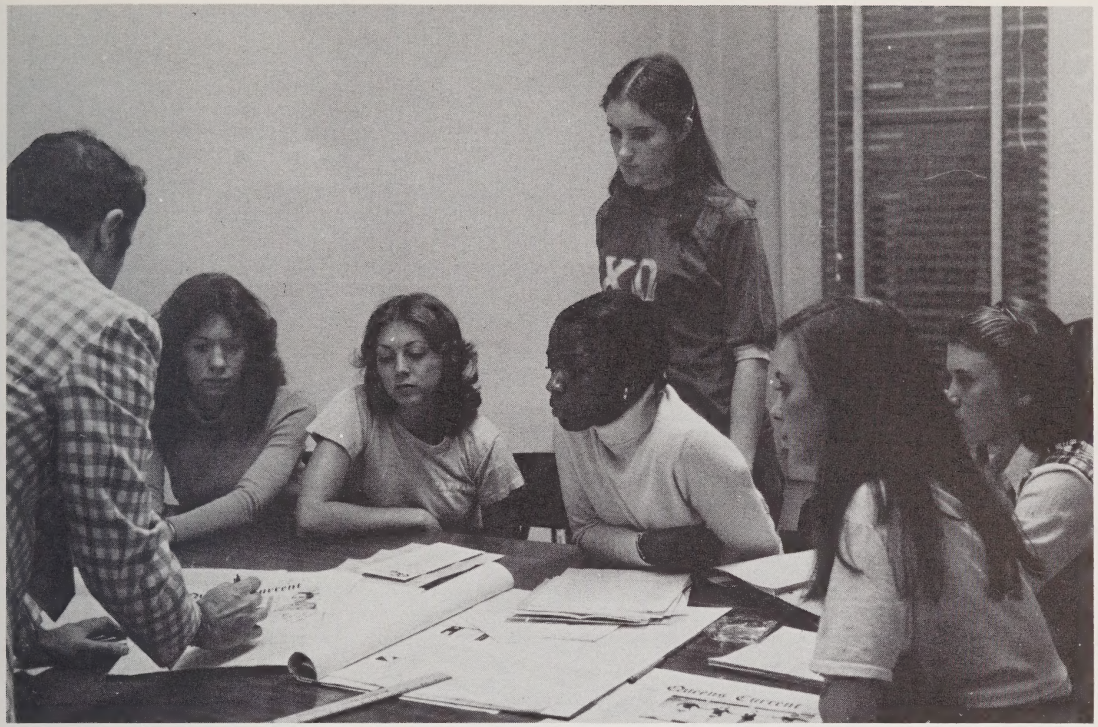
Financial Aid Policies

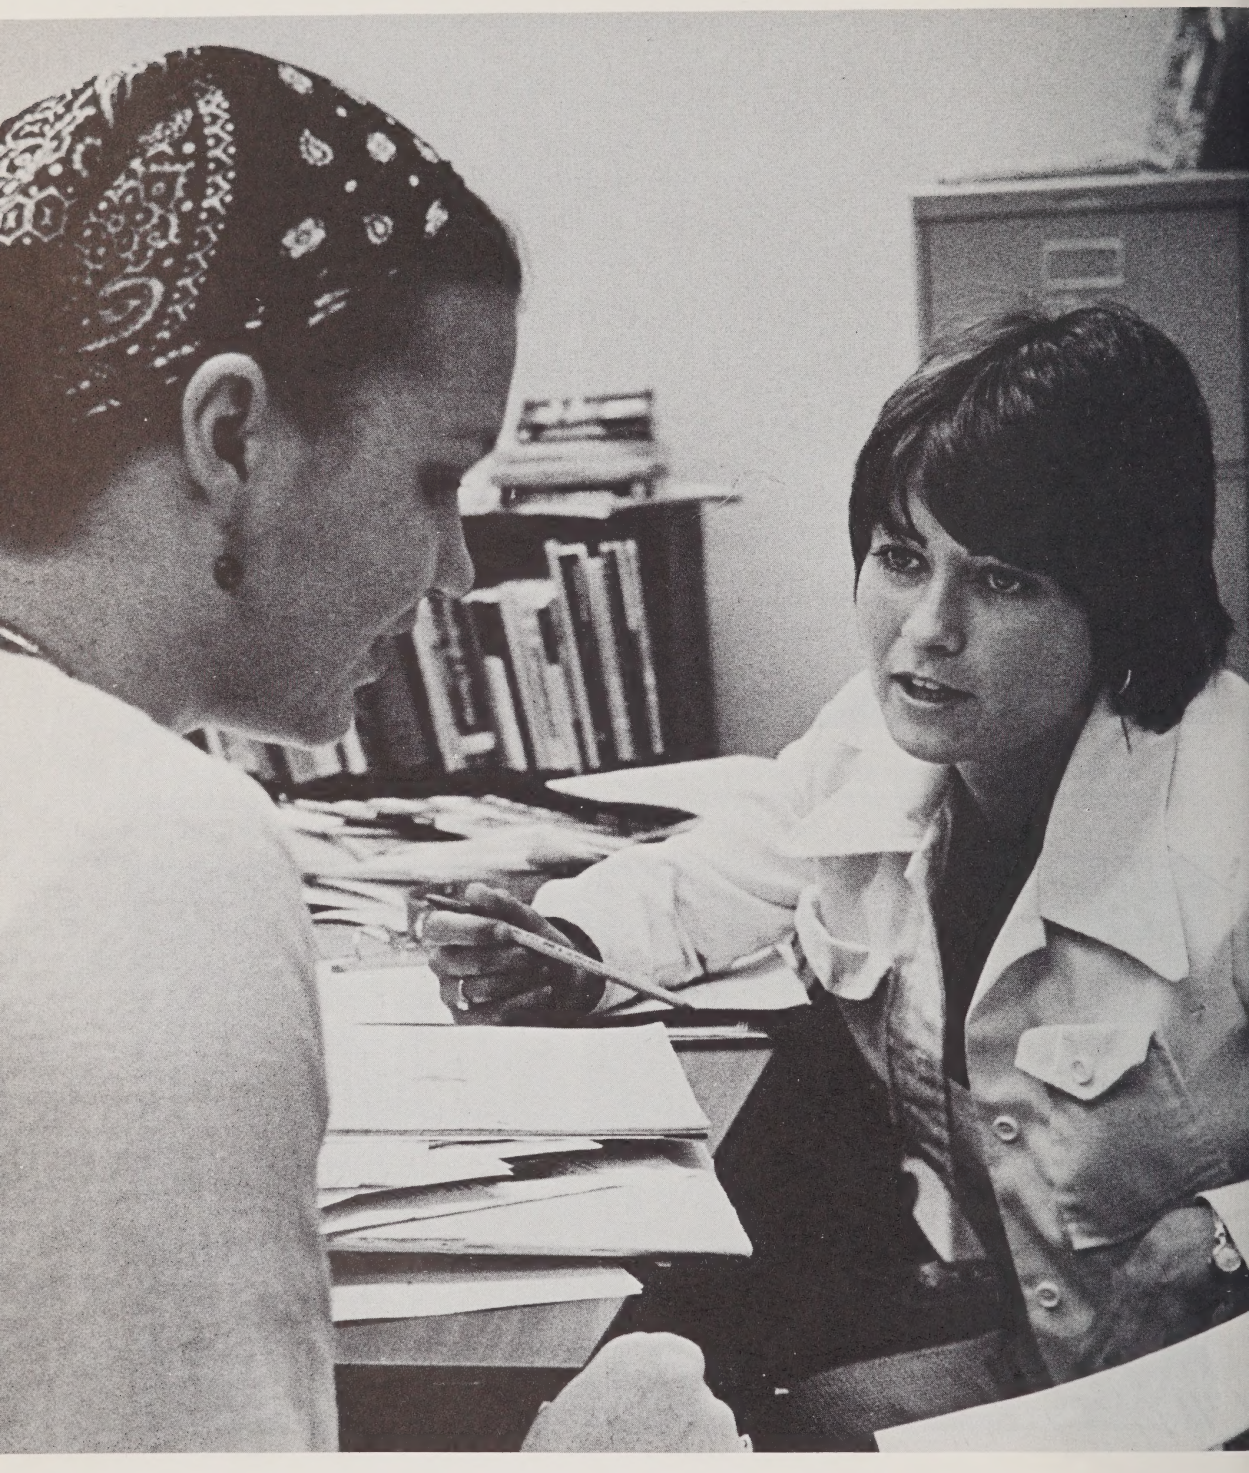
Most financial aid programs are renewable throughout undergraduate years if the recipient demonstrates satisfactory progress toward graduation, but renewal of aid is not automatic. Rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors must reapply to the financial aid office for assistance each year. The amount offered in grants, loans, and work-study funds also may vary from year to year. Students on academic probation at the end of the college year will be ineligible to receive financial aid for the coming year.

Financial aid recipients who withdraw during the school year will have their aid prorated according to the regulations governing withdrawal.

Students receiving aid under certain programs are expected to assume weekly work assignments at the college. Assignments are determined by the amount of aid received and the student's particular interests and skills.

Queens reserves the right to review and modify an offer of financial aid should the recipient receive aid from other sources after Queens' program has been offered. This is a requirement for any student receiving federally based financial aid.





THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

Degree Requirements

Degree Programs

Queens College offers four degree programs: the bachelor of arts, the bachelor of science, the bachelor of music and the bachelor of general studies. Majors within the bachelor of arts include American studies, art, biochemistry, biology, business, business/foreign language, early childhood education, English, European studies, French, history, Latin-American studies, mathematics, music, philosophy, political science, public administration, psychology, sociology, and Spanish.

Majors within the bachelor of science include biochemistry, biology, medical technology, nuclear medical technology, nursing, and radiologic technology.

The bachelor of music degree offers majors in applied music (piano, voice, organ, strings, or other instruments), in music education, music therapy, piano pedagogy, and sacred music.

The bachelor of general studies is a flexible program in which the student selects an area of emphasis and a sequence of elective courses to fit her own particular needs and circumstances. The area of emphasis may or may not be one of the specific majors offered in the other degree programs.

Degree Requirements

Required for a degree is a minimum of 120 credit hours in academic courses with a cumulative quality point average of 2.000 in all work taken at Queens College and in all work in the chosen field of concentration. Also required is a minimum of two non-academic credit hours in physical education. At least 36 credit hours must be in courses of the 300 level or higher. Every degree candidate must complete at least 30 hours of her academic program at Queens College and must spend her last year at Queens College or in a Queens approved program.

Though the college makes every effort to counsel the student in planning a program and selecting courses of study, the student is finally responsible for fulfilling all requirements for a degree.

Educational Program

The educational program leading to a degree is composed of four interrelated parts: a major program; a program of distributed requirements; a program of elective hours which may include the choice of one or two minor programs; and a program of physical education.

Major Program

The purpose of a major is twofold: to give the student the opportunity to go far enough into a field to achieve some mastery of it; and to enable her to acquire knowledge, skills, and attitudes which may help make her effective in her vocation. Working with her advisor, the student will plan her major in one of three categories: departmental, interdepartmental, or self-structured.

The self-structured major is planned by the student in consultation with a major advisor and an advisory committee of two other faculty members from the principal disciplines which constitute the student's fields of interest. If a student is seeking a self-structured major in intermediate education, she will work closely with an advisor in her specialty area as well as with one in the education department. The individually structured major might include courses in two or more departments, work taken at other colleges, internships off campus, and credit earned through the College Level Examination Program. It offers the student an opportunity to tailor an academic program to meet particular intellectual interests and vocational objectives. The student is expected to show independence and responsibility in planning such a major program.

The self-structured major shall consist of a minimum of 30 hours in the major with a minimum of 12 hours at the 300-400 level in the one primary department of the major. Self-structured major programs must include Interdisciplinary Senior Thesis 450, unless the major is in intermediate education. Self-structured majors in intermediate education must include at least 12 hours in 300-400 level courses in at least one academic area other than education.

Minor Program

If a student chooses, she may include one or two minors in her undergraduate program. The minor shall consist of a minimum of 16 hours in a department other than her major. The minor may be taken in any program so designated in the catalogue. Minor programs must be approved by the faculty advisor and the department concerned.

Bachelor of Arts

A major for the bachelor of arts degree shall consist of no fewer than 30 credit hours. No more than 40 hours in the major department shall be required for a major. A student may, however, at her own initiative take more than 40 hours in her major department. Specific requirements in areas of the major are stated in each department heading in the course descriptions.

Bachelor of Science

A major for the bachelor of science degree in the areas of biology or biological chemistry shall consist of no fewer than 32 credit hours. Language proficiency at the intermediate level is also required for the bachelor of science degree in these areas. Specific requirements for each of the major programs are stated in the department heading in the course descriptions. Credits earned at non-academic institutions may be used toward B.S. degrees with majors in allied health areas only. All nursing and radiologic technology majors must complete the last 30 hours of credit at Queens College. An associate of science in nuclear medical technology is available. Information concerning the program is available from the Division of Mathematics and Natural Sciences.

Major in Nursing

A major in nursing will be granted to registered nurses upon completion of 60 credit hours of approved college work. Degree candidates must have graduated from an accredited Diploma School of Nursing or from an Associate Degree in Nursing program. Normally 60 credit hours (a maximum of 66 credit hours) and 120 quality points are assigned to courses carried in a school of nursing; these constitute a major. Of these 60 hours, 36 shall be considered equivalent to 300-400 level courses. All Queens College academic requirements for a degree must be met, and candidates must complete two non-academic credit hours in physical education with a grade of P (passing).

As a part of the nursing major requirements, each candidate must complete one course in mathematics, one in history, one in psychology, and one in sociology. (These requirements may overlap the Distributed Requirements.) Major requirements also include Biology 103, any approved elective at the 300-400 level in biology, and Chemistry 405.

In addition, nurses who have completed certification as a nurse anesthetist from any hospital school accredited by the American Registry of Nurse Anesthetists will receive an additional 30 hours of credit towards a major in nursing.

Major in Medical Technology

A major in medical technology will be granted upon successful completion of 90 credit hours of approved college work and certification in medical laboratory technology from any hospital accredited by the American Society of Clinical Pathology and approved by the college. In order to enter an A.S.C.P. approved school, minimum requirements must be met: at least 90 credit hours of college work giving a comprehensive general education and including English, social sciences, art, and humanities. In addition the minimum science and mathematics requirements are: 16 credit hours of chemistry, 16 credit hours of biology, and three credit hours of mathematics. All Queens College degree requirements must be met. A minimum of 36 hours in courses numbered 300 and above is required. Thirty credit hours are assigned to courses carried in the school of medical technology; these constitute the major. All of these 30 credit hours shall be considered equivalent to 300-400 level courses.

Major in Radiologic Technology

A major in radiologic technology will be granted upon successful completion of 90 credit hours of approved college work and certification in radiologic technology from any hospital school accredited by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists and approved by the college.

All Queens College degree requirements must be met. A minimum of 36 hours in courses numbered 300 and above is required. Thirty credit hours are assigned to professional courses carried in the school of radiologic technology; these constitute the major. All of these 30 credit hours shall be considered equivalent to 300-400 level courses. A student may not be admitted to candidacy for this degree until certified by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists.

Bachelor of Music

In the bachelor of music program, the major consists of no less than 73 hours in music under the applied music major; no less than 70 hours in music under the piano pedagogy major; under the music education major at least 50 credit hours are in music courses with no less than 14 credit hours of work in an applied major performance area and four credit hours of work in an applied minor performance area.

Bachelor of General Studies

The bachelor of general studies is a degree for the adult student, ages 24 and older. It is a flexible program, designed to allow a student to structure a course of study to fit her own particular needs and circumstances. The degree requires 120 credit hours, with at least 36 on the 300 or 400 level, and includes 30 hours in an area of emphasis and a three hour Introduction to General Studies Seminar.

The individual emphasis is designed to meet the student's personal educational objectives. Upon entering the program, the student will, with her advisor's guidance, plan the appropriate course of study.

The area of emphasis may or may not be one of the specific majors offered in other degree programs. The elective hours chosen in consultation with the student's advisor, will be determined by the individual emphasis. The residence requirements remain the same as for any other degree program.

A central feature of the bachelor of general studies program is the close interaction of the student with an advisor who helps her plan a program of study as well as evaluate her progress from time to time.

The bachelor of general studies is a degree program which offers excellent career preparation and options for the older adult wishing to obtain a college degree. Specific information on this degree is available from the Admissions Office.

Pre-Professional Programs

In combination with individual major programs available at Queens, students may elect to structure a program of study which leads to pre-professional preparation in various fields. For instance, courses of study are available to students wishing to pursue professions in the areas of dentistry, law, medicine, music therapy, nursing, physical therapy, social work, and teaching.

Medicine, Dentistry, and Physical Therapy

It is recognized by leading medical educators that a genuine liberal arts curriculum provides the most suitable undergraduate premedical, predental, pre-physical therapy, and pre-veterinary medicine background. Completion of the courses required of all students at Queens College provides desired breadth of training and intellectual skills.

It may be helpful for these students to acquaint themselves with the specific requirements for the schools to which they expect to apply for admission.

Full information concerning any aspect of these programs may be obtained from the Division of Mathematics and Natural Sciences.

Law

Queens College affords students an opportunity to develop a pre-law course of study, although it does not offer a pre-law major. Law schools do not require nor recommend specific courses or majors. They do recommend, however, that students examine a variety of subjects or ideas that would lead to an understanding of the broad political, economic, social, and cultural forces which affect our body of laws and the society which it orders. Law schools also recommend that students work toward developing their skills of analysis and communication. While the majority of students admitted to law schools have selected political science, history, English, or economics as undergraduate majors, virtually all undergraduate majors have been represented.

Admission requirements for law school generally include the Law School Admission Test. Applications for this test are available in the registrar's office, and students should plan to take the exam early in their senior year. Scores from this test, undergraduate quality point average, and other factors are parts of the law school admissions process. Students should check to see what information is required by the law school or schools that interest them.

For further details or counseling, students should contact the Division of Business and Social Sciences.

Music Therapy

Under the bachelor of arts degree, the music department has devised a major in the field of music therapy. It will be in full operation by the 1977-78 academic year, and a special bulletin is being prepared which will contain all pertinent information about this program.

Music therapy prepares a student for work with children and adults who require special services because of behavioral, learning or physical disorders.

For further details please contact the chairman of the Division of Fine Arts.

Nursing

Queens offers three programs to students interested in nursing. A cooperative program with the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing enables students to take courses at Queens while working to become a registered nurse through the course of study provided by the hospital. Details of this program are given on page 97. A second program exists for registered nurses who would like to complete requirements for the B. S. degree with a major in nursing. This program is described on pages 97 and 98. As a third possibility, students may elect a pre-nursing curriculum upon enrolling at Queens.

The two-year pre-nursing curriculum is offered to undergraduates who wish to receive liberal arts training as well as a baccalaureate degree in nursing. This program of study enables students to transfer to an institution offering a nursing degree. Under this program students interested in nursing but uncertain about their commitment or ability in the field can begin productive college work before making a final decision about professional training.

The flexible two-year curriculum includes courses required at the particular school of nursing to which the student will transfer. Queens maintains a file of college and university catalogues which list the requirements of various nursing programs. Normally the pre-nursing student develops a freshman and sophomore schedule from the following courses:

Natural Sciences and Mathematics: Biology 103, 206, 111, 112, 120; Chemistry 101, 102, 303; Mathematics 105 or 112.

Social Sciences: Psychology (two courses) 201, 303, 304, 309, 319; Sociology (two courses) 203, 204, 302, 308, 316, 318.

Humanities: English 101 or 105; literature, history, religion.

Students interested in this pre-nursing program should submit a regular admissions application to Queens' director of admissions, and should anticipate transferring after their sophomore year to the nursing school from which they wish to graduate.

For additional information and counseling about the nursing programs, students should contact the Division of Mathematics and Natural Sciences.

Social Work

A sequence of courses designed to give fundamental preparation to students wishing to enter social work or graduate study in this field is offered by the sociology department. Students may combine studies in the area of social work with any of the majors regularly offered by the college.

Additional information may be obtained from the Division of Business and Social Sciences.

Teacher Education

A teaching certificate, either at the early childhood, intermediate, or secondary level, may be secured with the bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree. Teacher certification also is possible under the bachelor of music program. The bachelor of music degree in music education is described on page 59. Details of the major in early childhood education and of teacher certification programs at the intermediate and secondary levels are given on page 47 and in the departmental bulletins about teacher education. These bulletins are available in the offices of the registrar and of the education department.

For further information, students may consult the chairman of the Division of Education and Psychology.

(NOTE: Graduate students seeking teacher renewal credit or teacher certification may also enroll in courses at Queens. For details, interested students should consult the dean of the college.)

Distributed Requirements

The distributed requirements, totaling at least 33 hours, assist the student in developing a program of study which will be widely representative of liberal arts studies. With one exception (Area I) these courses may be taken at any time during the student's years of attendance.

Area	Number of Courses (3 Credit hours or more)
I. Research Writing Skills (English 101), Communications in the Humanities (English 105) (taken in freshman year unless exempt)	1
II. French, German, Russian, Spanish or Mathematics	2
III. History, Philosophy, Religion	2
IV. Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Interdisciplinary Science I and II	2
V. Economics, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology	2
VI. Art, Literature, Music	2

Students may take either course in area I. Courses which meet distributed requirements in areas II-VI are designated in each department heading in the course descriptions. Students may elect any two of the specified courses in areas II-VI, and are advised to investigate as many disciplines as possible within the framework of the distributed requirements and through elective courses.

Elective Hours

In consultation with faculty advisors, students choose elective hours, in addition to distributed and major area requirements, to complete the hours required for graduation. Electives afford an opportunity to develop one or two minor programs, to study in fields which directly support the major program, and to gain knowledge in additional areas.

Physical Education

All candidates for degrees, with the exception of those working towards the Bachelor of General Studies degree, must complete two non-academic credit hours in physical education with a grade of P (passing).

One hour is given for each term of successful completion of a physical education course. These physical education hours must be earned by the end of the sophomore year. No specific course is required.

Students requesting exemption from physical education activities for medical reasons must make such requests through the college physician and have approval of the dean of students. Chronic conditions which would warrant exemption are to be noted on the student's medical examination form for review by the college physician.

Three Year Degree Program

While degree programs generally extend over a four year period, a Queens College student may complete a degree program in three years. The Three Year Program would involve attendance at two May Terms or summer sessions. Courses taken during the summer could be reduced if the student took extra courses during the three regular academic years.

Academic Regulations

Registration

Students are expected to register for course work at the time specified for each term. Registration after the scheduled time costs an additional $15. No registrations are permitted after the first full week of classes.

A student may change her registration (drop-add) during the first full week of classes only. There will be no charge for course changes made at this time. After the first full week, any course dropped will be considered a withdrawal, for which a fee of $5 will be assessed. No course may be added after the first full week of classes.

Special students registering on a part-time basis who drop courses during the specified drop-add period will be carefully advised to consider entering other, more appropriate courses. Should it be deemed advisable for the student to drop a course completely, the student will be reimbursed for the tuition amount paid for the dropped course provided the usual drop-add procedures are followed and the action is taken at the recommendation of the student's faculty advisor.

Term Load

The academic year consists of two 13 class-week terms (I and II) and Inter-Term of four class weeks during the month of January. The normal load for all students is from 12 to 15 credit hours in Terms I and II and three to four credit hours in Inter-Term. Any fulltime student wishing to take more than 15 hours in Terms I and II must obtain permission from the dean of the college.

Graduation Requirements

A student should take the average load of 30 hours each year if she is to attain the 120 hours required for graduation in the four regular years. In addition, two credits in physical education are required for graduation.

Grades and Quality Points

Graduation requirements are based on both the quantity and quality of the student's work. Queens uses the following system of grades and quality-point value per credit hour:

Grade	Interpretation	Quality-Point Value
A	Superior	4.0
B+	Very good	3.5
B	Good	3.0
C+	Very satisfactory	2.5
C	Satisfactory	2.0
D	Poor	1.0
F	Failing	0
P	Pass	(0)
N/R	No Record	(0)
W	Withdrew	No effect on quality points
I	Incomplete	May become A to F upon completion

Grades in physical education are P (passing) or N/R (no record).

A grade of I automatically becomes F if the student fails to make up incomplete work satisfactorily. The grade of I must be removed by the end of the first two weeks of regular classes of the next term for Terms II and Inter-Term and summer session. A grade of I received during Term I must be removed by the end of the second full week of regular classes of Term II.

Grade reports are sent at the end of each term. Mid-year reports are issued in Terms I and II to indicate special difficulties in course work. Only final term grades are permanently recorded.

A student who has received an F for a course may repeat that course; the F will remain on the student's record in that case, but only the second grade for the course will be figured into the student's cumulative quality point average. NOTE: This is the only case in which a student may register to enroll in the same course twice unless the course is listed "May be repeated for credit."

Pass/No Record

P/NR is a grading philosophy designed to encourage students to explore new areas. The guidelines below do not include those courses, designated as P/NR for all students, such as Introduction to Computer, typing, internships. Courses selected by the student to fulfill the Distributed Requirements may be taken P/NR. P equals a grade of C or above; NR equals a grade of D or less. Courses taken for P/NR are not counted in the calculation of the student's quality point average.

Students may take up to a maximum of two courses a year on a P/NR basis, but may take no more than one course on a P/NR basis in any one term. The student must indicate when she registers for the course that the grading basis will be P/NR. Up to one week after the midpoint of the semester, however, she may change the P/NR basis to a graded basis. Some courses specifically designated (for example, art studio, applied music) may not be taken P/NR. Unless a student obtains permission from the dean of the college, she may not take a course in the department of her major or in her major program on a P/NR basis. Students planning advanced academic work should be informed that Pass grades are sometimes interpreted as C by graduate institutions and an inordinate number of such grades may be looked upon with disfavor by graduate admissions committees.

Student Rank

Students following a degree program and carrying the required term load are granted class rank according to their credit hours earned.

Class Rank	Credit Hours
Freshman	0-30
Sophomore	30-60
Junior	60-90
Senior	90-120

A regular student is one who is admitted as a degree candidate.

A special student is one who is admitted with non-degree status and may enroll for a cumulative total of 15 credit hours. After completing 15 credit hours, a special student must apply for regular admission or receive special permission to continue.

A contract student, a degree candidate at another institution, is enrolled for credit at Queens through arrangements with the institution which will ultimately grant the degree.

A continuing education student is one who is enrolled only in non-credit programs.

Academic Standards

While Queens makes every effort to encourage students and to assist those in diffuculty, it is unfair to the student and to the college to retain anyone who fails to make reasonable progress.

Eligibility to Continue

The Student Qualifications Committee reviews each case of academic difficulty at the end of Terms I and II and determines the student's eligibility status.

Probation

A student who does not maintain satisfactory scholastic standing may be placed on academic probation. A student is automatically on academic probation if her cumulative quality point average is below the following values for class standing.

Class Standing	Credit Hours	Term I Completed	Term II Completed
For students graduating in 1979 the following standards apply:
Freshman	0-30	1.500	1.800
Sophomores	30-60	1.800	1.900
Juniors	60-90	1.900	2.000
Seniors	90-120	2.000	2.000
For students graduating in 1978 the following standards apply:
Freshman	0-30	1.500	1.800
Sophomores	30-60	1.800	1.900
Juniors	60-89	1.900	2.000
Seniors	89-118	2.000	2.000
For students graduating in 1977 the following standards apply:
Freshman	0-30	1.500	1.800
Sophomores	30-60	1.800	1.900
Juniors	60-88	1.900	2.000
Seniors	88-116	2.000	2.000

A student on academic probation may petition the Student Qualifications Committee for exception from probation if the student has achieved a QPA of 2.500 or better for the previous Term I or II.

The student who does not show improvement and fails to meet the scholastic standard may be asked to withdraw from the college.

Eligibility to Represent the College

Students who maintain a quality point average of 2.000 or more the preceding term are eligible to represent the college in off-campus extracurricular activities and to hold campus offices during the current term. Students on probation are not eligible to represent the college.

Attendance Policies

Class attendance policies for each course are set by the individual faculty member. The faculty member announces at the beginning of each term the policy he intends to apply in each particular course.

All candidates for degrees are required to be present for commencement rehearsal, baccalaureate service, and the commencement exercises.

Examinations

The student's work is evaluated periodically. At the end of each term, evaluations—normally by written examination—are made in all courses. Final written examinations are generally between two and three hours long. In 300 and 400 level courses the instructor may give the examination during the regularly scheduled time or ask a take-out examination. The schedule for final examinations is established by the registrar. Permission to change an examination schedule or to make up an examination must be granted by the dean of the college.

Withdrawal From a Course

A student must obtain permission from the dean of the college to withdraw from a course. After the first full week of classes in any term, a student who drops a course receives a grade of W. The first day of the last full week of classes in any term is the last day that students may withdraw from a course. After that date the earned grade will be recorded.

Withdrawal from the College

A student wishing to withdraw from the college before end of the term must notify the dean of the college in order to maintain a good standing. All grades are recorded as W. If the student does not give written notification to the dean of the college before the end of the term, all grades are recorded as F.

The college reserves the right to require at any time the withdrawal of a student whose conduct or academic work is not considered satisfactory.

Academic Ineligibility

The faculty determines the academic standards which the Student Qualifications Committee administers. This committee reviews each case of academic difficulty. When students fail to make satisfactory progress according to guidelines stated in the catalogue (page 34), the Student Qualifications Committee places various stipulations to encourage the student to meet the minimum standards. These stipulations are sent in writing to students and to parents or guardians of minors. If the student does not meet the stipulations set she will be subject to dismissal from the college. All decisions regarding dismissal may be appealed to the president of the college. Following a full semester of absence from the college, a student may apply for readmission.

Auditing Courses

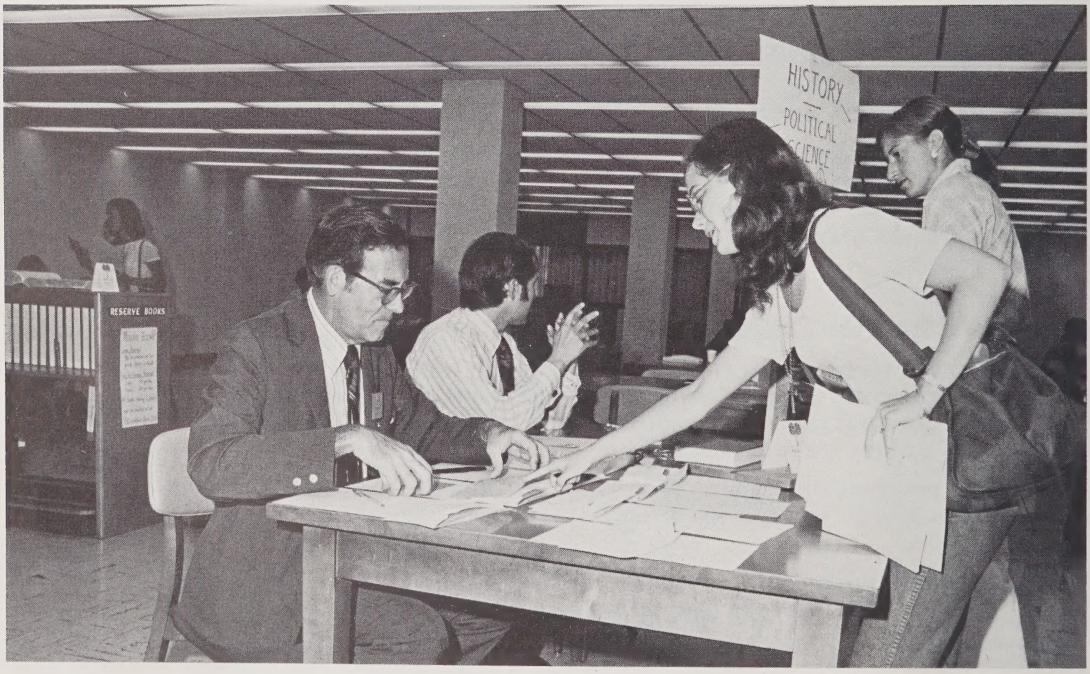
A regular student carrying a load of 12 to 15 credit hours and maintaining a B average may, with the consent of the dean of the college and at the request of the instructor, audit a course. Special students may petition the dean of the college for permission to audit a course. An auditor is expected to attend classes regularly.

Summer School Credits

Approved summer courses taken at other accredited colleges and universities and carrying a grade of C or higher may be counted toward the 120 credit hours required for graduation, provided these courses are comparable or supplemental to those offered at Queens and have been approved by the advisor and the related department head, or the dean of the college. In calculating a student's quality point average for graduation, only the credit hours and quality points earned at Queens are counted.

Undergraduate Program Tests

The college arranges for and requires all students academically classified as seniors to take the Undergraduate Program Tests.



Courses of Instruction

Course Listings

Course listings give general information concerning each area of study and the requirements for major programs in each discipline. These requirements should be carefully noted by students when deciding on a major.

Most of the courses in the following section will be offered in Terms I and II; however, catalogue courses for the January Inter-Term are also listed.

Inter-Term

Inter-Term at Queens College is the January interim term. It provides a period of study during which a student concentrates on one course or learning experience. This may involve off-campus travel, an internship, an independent study, or a directed reading course.

Course Numbers

Course numbers indicate the level of difficulty of the course. In general, courses numbered 100-299 are primarily for freshmen and sophomores; those numbered 300-499 are primarily for juniors and seniors. In specific cases, however, the individual student's ability and background rather than her class standing will determine the appropriate level of work.

Hyphenated numbers (e.g. 101-102) designate two-term courses for which credit is not granted until the second term has been completed.

Double numbers separated by a comma (e.g.310, 302) indicate that the completion of both courses forms a desirable unit but credit may be received for one without the other. Occasionally the first course is a prerequisite to the second.

Credit Hours

Hours of credit are noted with the course description. A standard three credit hour course in Terms I and II presumes 11 hours of work by the student each week, but the division of this time between work in the classroom or laboratory and work outside of the class can vary from course to course as determined by the individual instructors and the departments. A three credit hour course in the Inter-Term presumes thirty-three hours of work by the student each week. The abbreviation "HRS." used in the curriculum section indicates credit hours.

Course Changes

Queens College reserves the right to change the course offerings and instructors indicated in this catalogue without prior notice to persons who may thereby be affected. Every effort is made to help a student affected by a course change by providing the opportunity for an independent study or seminar arrangement.

Economics/Business

Courses offered in this department provide opportunity for the study of the principles that govern economic systems, in theory and in practice. Major study in economics may lead to careers in banking, commerce, industry, and government or to graduate study in economics, business, and law.

Courses in business and in secretarial training are planned for students who wish to supplement their academic programs. If all courses offered in secretarial practice are successfully completed, a student should be adequately prepared to accept secretarial opportunities in her major field. An academic major combined with secretarial skills often leads to responsible positions in business, industry, and education. (See information regarding Business Secretarial Proficiency Certificate.)

Major

A major in business is offered by the department. Students completing the requirements will receive a bachelor of arts degree in business. By selecting advanced business electives offered in the department, students will have some degree of concentration in marketing, management, and investment/finance.

Requirements for the degree: Economics 203, 204; Business 207, 210, 214, 307, 342, 310, 352, 490. Math 206 and one other course from Business 308, 410, 420, and Economics 351.

Students are encouraged to take additional courses for further study in their fields of concentration. For emphasis in marketing, Business 410, 412, 414, and Psychology 303 are recommended.

For management emphasis, Business 330, 420, Psychology 303, and Sociology 316 are recommended.

For an investment/finance emphasis, Economics 351, and Business 451 are recommended.

Division of Education and Psychology

Professor Shealy; Professor Fulbright; Associate Professor Mason; Assistant Professor Lanier; Assistant Professor Pharr; Assistant Professor Smith; Assistant Professor Walker; Miss Baker; Dr. Biber; Miss Bryant; Miss Chapman; Miss Del Pizzo; Ms. Mee.

Teacher certification may be obtained as a part of the student's regular four-year program. Course work is designed to meet requirements in North Carolina and some other states. Students planning to teach in a state other than North Carolina should obtain a copy of the requirements of that state and plan a program to meet those requirements. In its preparation of future teachers, the department combines contemporary knowledge with classroom theory and with experience in public school teaching.

Departmental objectives state that the education of teachers is threefold: they are liberally educated; they pursue in depth their teaching specialties; and they acquire the necessary professional knowledge and skills needed in teaching; that the certification of teachers is limited to the areas in which the college has majors or well-established programs; that the education of teachers is the joint responsibility of the academic departments and the department of education; and that one of the ways of accomplishing the college's purpose as an educational institution is to prepare individuals both for personal fulfillment and for contribution to society.

Certification is possible in early childhood education (grades K-3); intermediate (grades 4-9); in secondary-level teaching (grades 7-12) in English, French, Spanish, mathematics, science (or biology), and the social studies areas; and in the special subject areas (grades K-12) in art, Bible, media education, and music. Courses in special education are available for persons interested in that field, for example, Psychology 308 (The Exceptional Child) and Education 361.

All students seeking certification are required to have an area of concentration in an academic field or a regular or a self-structured major in education and must meet all requirements for graduation. Students in the early childhood program may choose to major in early childhood education or any other area of concentration offered and at the same time fulfill certification requirements. Students may use a self-structured major in education or in combination with one or more academic areas.

Early planning for certification is advisable. For specific requirements in teaching fields, students should consult the special departmental bulletins on teacher education.

The Early Learning Center for 4- and 5-year olds provides kindergarten experiences for a small group of children and opportunity for Queens students to observe and work with children on campus.

Major

The major in Early Childhood Education requires the following courses: Education 202, 305, 311, 312, 321, 333, 334, 401, 403, and 446; and nine credit hours of 300-400 courses related to the major and approved by the department. In addition, the student must complete in other departments subject matter courses required for the teaching certificate in early childhood education.

Music

The music department puts emphasis upon the individual purpose of each student whether she is pursuing music as a professional career, developing a special ability, studying to become a teacher, or is interested in music as a part of her liberal education. Small classes allow personal attention, and students receive private instruction under teachers who are performing artists.* Ensemble work is stressed through participation in the musical organizations of the college. The more advanced students have many opportunities for group and solo performances in the city of Charlotte through local organizations such as the Charlotte Opera Association, the Oratorio Singers, the Charlotte Symphony Orchestra, and church choirs.

Major Bachelor of Arts

American Studies

American studies is an interdisciplinary major program which allows students to choose, from a number of major areas, courses dealing with American life and culture, and to pursue an analysis of specific areas of American civilization through a senior seminar and independent study projects.

A concentration in American studies encourages students to examine the forces shaping America's civilization, and to integrate a number of academic areas in order to analyze and re-evaluate the American experience.

Careers

An American studies major should grasp the facts of American culture and intellectual history so that she may integrate the knowledge and research technology from a variety of disciplines into a coherent whole. Through an emphasis in economics or political science a career in public administration, foreign service, or law is possible. Through coordinated study of art, archeology, and history combined with internships or practicums a position in historic preservation is possible; with course work and internships in journalism, a career in newspaper writing may result. Graduate training in American studies is available at an increasing number of universities, with courses offered in conjunction with libraries, museums, or foundations. Through consultation with the education department, social studies or English certification is possible at both intermediate and secondary levels.

Major

At least nine hours in American history, including 203 and 204; English 331, 332; plus 15 hours at the 300 level in courses with an American emphasis (as listed below) to be chosen in consultation with an American studies advisor. In addition, American studies majors are required to take American Studies 200, 400, and 450.

Minor

At least 18 hours in courses with an American emphasis in addition to American Studies 200, 400, and American Studies Senior Thesis.

Electives

American studies majors may elect their major program from among the following courses: Art 307; Business 100; Economics 351; English 328, 329, 333, 352; History 325, 326, 389, 392, 393, 394, 396, 397, 398; Music 207; Philosophy 310c; Religion 317, 323; Political Science 201, 308, 310, 313, 315, 325, 326; Sociology 308, 325, 340.

200 THE AMERICAN EXPERIENCE

Inter-Term / 3 Hrs.

The course will explore significant inter-relationships among politics, economics, literature, the arts and religion at selected moments of American history. An interdisciplinary course, it will serve as an introduction to studies in American culture.

400 SENIOR SEMINAR IN AMERICAN STUDIES

Term I / 3 Hrs.

Colloquium for American studies majors who meet for papers, reports, and lectures to synthesize insights about American society.

450 AMERICAN STUDIES SENIOR THESIS

Terms I and II / 3 Hrs.

Opportunity for independent investigation of a theme or project to culminate in a written report. (Open to American Studies majors only.)

English

Courses in the department include composition, literature, speech, film, dramatic arts, and journalism. Students are encouraged to take courses in all these areas, but courses in speech, film, dramatic arts (unless specified), and journalism do not count towards a regular major in English. Initial courses train the student to perceive and evaluate the form, structure, and inner dynamics of any literary work. Advanced courses focus on specialized areas of relevance and are designed to give the student an awareness of ways in which other disciplines can contribute to a fuller understanding of literature.

Careers

Study of literature and composition affords preparation for professional schools in law and teaching. In addition students majoring in this department find their training applicable to editing, newspaper and television journalism, copywriting for publishers and advertising agencies. When combined with study in economics and business, careers may be planned for public relations and personnel work. Career opportunities also exist in films, theatre, and many phases of creative writing. Students may also obtain teaching certificates through elective courses.

Students interested in drama and theatre may want to consider the program outlined in the section on dramatic art.

Major

English 201, English 301, 302; and 21 additional hours. The following courses in Dramatic Art will be accepted: 303, 304, 327, 336. Major advisors will consult with students in career and graduate school preparation, and in planning tailored programs in journalism, teaching, and drama. Advanced placement will allow exemption from 201. Outstanding majors will be invited by the department to participate in a program of special study which if successfully completed will result in graduation with Honors in English.

Minor

English 201, 301, 302, and 12 additional hours, nine of which must be at the 300 level or above.

Distributed Requirements

The requirement, Area I, is met by English 101 or 105, and is usually taken in Term I of the freshman year. (However, English 201 may be taken simultaneously with 101 or 105.) The requirement, Area VI, in literature may be met by any course on the 200 or 300 level; or, if taken in the foreign language department, any literature course numbered 300 or above.

Students with an SAT verbal score of 550 or above are exempt from the Area I distributed requirement in English. These students may wish, however to elect English 105, a course normally taken by Queens Scholars.

Prerequisite

English 201 is prerequisite to all English courses numbered 300 and above. In certain cases, however, with the approval of the instructor, non-English majors may be accepted into courses numbered 300 and above.

101 RESEARCH WRITING SKILLS

Terms I and II / 3 Hrs.

Course designed to help freshmen write clearly and directly through close examination of their own essays and those of their classmates. Emphasis will be placed on the students' developing personal critical standards, using research techniques accurately and logically, and having a variety of writing experiences so that they will be enabled to write more effectively throughout their college careers.

101 WRITING WORKSHOP

Terms I and II

The writing workshop is required as part of English 101. It provides a review center for basic grammar and composition skills in which each student works under supervision and on an individualized basis. Students attend the workshop until certified as competent in basic skills. Competency is determined by the workshop supervisor and the freshman writing instructor.

The workshop is also available to upperclassmen on the recommendation of the faculty.

105 COMMUNICATIONS IN THE HUMANITIES

Term I / 3 Hrs.

Broad humanistic problems in the arts and sciences of the past and present will be explored with a stress on the techniques of effective communication in writing. Topics for term papers will be selected from the readings for the course. Class discussions, selected films, assigned papers will direct the student to a structured view of four main cultural areas: the Greeks, the Renaissance, science, and the contemporary world.

Queens Scholars are encouraged to participate in English 105.

109 BUSINESS ENGLISH

2 Hrs.

Basic review of mechanics and composition skills. Some attention to oral as well as written communication. Letter writing and introduction to technical writing.

No credit toward English major or distributed requirements.

201 INTRODUCTION TO LITERATURE

Terms I and II / 3 Hrs.

Selected American, English, and European fiction, poetry, and drama; interpretative reading and writing based on literature; class discussions, individual conferences, and short papers. Course is prerequisite to all English courses numbered 300 and above, except in certain cases, with approval of instructor.

217 BACKGROUNDS TO WESTERN LITERATURE

Term I / Alternate years / 3 Hrs.

A study of the classical and biblical backgrounds which figure so importantly in the development of the Western literary tradition. While some consideration will be given to the historical and philosophic nature of the works studied, the emphasis will be on the works as great literature. Included will be a study of the Bible, Greek drama, the Homeric epic, and Aristotle's Poetics.

Open to freshmen, sophomores, and students not concentrating in English, as well as students concentrating in English.

301, 302 LITERARY HISTORY OF ENGLAND

301, Term I; 302, Term II / 3, 3 Hrs.

Historical and critical exploration of the major periods, forms, and attitudes of English literature from Beowulf to the present. Continuities and discontinuities of central developments of English literature will be discussed through selected texts. Literary examination and judgment as well as writing skills will be stressed.

For sophomores and juniors: 301, 302 need not be taken before other 300 numbered courses, but can be taken simultaneously or later.

307 ADVANCED COMPOSITION

Term I / 3 Hrs.

Study of principles of writing, with special attention to observation and reflection, form and meaning, modern usage, and effective expression.

308 CREATIVE WRITING

Term II / Alternate years

Practice in writing and in criticism of the essay, short story, and poem in view of a final piece of sustained, related work, for students with interest in and aptitude for composition.

Admission by permission of instructor.

310 CHAUCER

Foreign Languages and Literatures

Majors in French, Spanish, and Latin-American Studies are available in this department. Major work in any one of these areas provides the basis for graduate study.

Careers

Career opportunities involving language skills include such areas as: education, journalism, broadcasting, research, library science, translation, business, travel, health services, and employment with the Federal Government. The acquisition of foreign language skills in addition to other skills increases career options. A special interdisciplinary Business/Foreign Language major provides skills in both areas.

Placement

College Board Foreign Language Achievement Test scores are used as a guide for placement. At the time of registration entering students who have taken this test will be informed of their foreign language study options. A student must be properly placed in a language course before she is eligible for credit.

Study Abroad

Students majoring in foreign languages will be encouraged to study abroad under the auspices and programs of approved institutions. Foreign language study, when it occurs as part of such programs, must be approved in advance by the student's foreign language advisor. Credit for such work will be granted only upon receipt of transcripts and/or the successful completion of a departmental examination.

Distributed Requirements

All foreign language courses except 299, 350 and 399 meet distributed requirements in Area II, but elementary courses numbered 101 may fulfill the Area II requirement only upon satisfactory completion of the courses numbered 102. Division of Interdisciplinary Studies

Professor Fulbright

European Studies

Major in European Studies

The major in European studies is an interdisciplinary program which offers students a comprehensive knowledge of European civilization and enables graduates to consider business and diplomatic careers in Europe.

The program consists of four parts:

1. At least 39 credit hours in one of several concentrations dealing with Europe

2. A senior seminar which is included in the 39 credit hours

3. Electives relating to Europe

4. Residency in Europe

Optional Concentrations

A student majoring in European studies must select one of five areas for concentration; residency in Europe is required with each.

Economics/Business

Eighteen hours of economics and business courses including Economics 422 and Business 352, 410, 450; History 102, 387, 388; Political Science 301 and 323; a 321 conversation course in a foreign language; European Studies 470.

French

Eighteen hours of French courses including 321, 341, 343; History 102, 387, 388; Political Science 301, 323; Economics 422; European Studies 470.

History

Eighteen hours of courses in history including 101 and 102 and any four courses selected from 301, 302, 317, 387, 388, 391 or 449 (a reading course dealing with either a country or historical period); Political Science 301, 303, 323; Economics 422; a 321 conversation course and a literature course in a foreign language; European Studies 470.

Political Science

Eighteen hours of political science courses including 206, 301 and four courses from 303, 323, 324, 326, 336, 337, 350 or 450; History 102, 387, 388; Economics 422; a 321 conversation course and a 400 directed reading course in a foreign language; European Studies 470.

Spanish

Eighteen hours of Spanish courses including 321, 341, 402, 451; History 102, 387, 388; Political Science 206, 301 or 323; Economics 422; European Studies 470.

Electives

Students should choose from electives in art and music from Art 211, 212, 405, and 406; and Music 308 and 407. Electives from other departments which support the major include: English 217 and any European literature course; Philosophy 301, 302, 303; Psychology 303; Religion 304, 315, 345; and Sociology 313, 316.

European Residency

A student majoring in European studies must fulfill a residence requirement in Europe.

The European Studies Committee assists majors in planning a European residency and must approve all proposed residency programs, which should be scheduled during Term II of the junior year, the summer following the junior year, or Term I of the senior year. The committee and advisor will consult with the student during the residency and will determine the academic credit to be transferred or awarded for it when the student returns.

A student must fulfill the European residency requirement by participating in the Experiment in International Living, a program of the Association of United Colleges for Foreign Exchange and Study (see page 99), by attending a European educational institution, or by enrolling in an American sponsored academic program which does not isolate United States participants from other students. Credits earned through these programs and approved by the committee may be transferred to Queens College.

As an alternative, a student may register for European Studies 370: Residency in Europe.

370 RESIDENCY IN EUROPE

An informal program of settled residency in Europe, planned by the student and offering as many as 12 credit hours on a P/NR basis. Credit may be granted for simple domicile with journal at one credit hour per month, or two credit hours per month if student is employed.

This course may not be taken concurrently with any other international program for which credit may transfer to Queens.

470 SEMINAR ON EUROPE (SENIOR SEMINAR)

Term II / 3 Hrs.

An on-campus course required of all students majoring in European studies; taken during senior year. Students engage in independent study on an approved subject, participate in group discussions on selected topics, and meet with specialists in various branches of European studies.

Honors Programs

The Queens College Honors Program is designed for the academically talented student to provide her with as high a degree of freedom and individual challenge as possible.

Each year all students enrolled for a minimum of 12 hours and maintaining a cumulative grade point average of 3.000 or higher are designated "Eligible for Honors." These students, together with the Queens Scholars, are permitted and encouraged to participate in the Honors Program. Students with grades of Incomplete are ineligible for honors unless granted special permission by the Honors Committee. Transfer students must spend one regular term at Queens before becoming eligible for honors.

Freshman Queens Scholars

A limited number of in-coming freshmen are selected by the Honors Committee as Queens Scholars. Queens Scholars are encouraged to participate in in-course honors and English 105H.

Dana Scholars

Approximately 15 students each in the rising sophomore, junior and senior classes are designated Dana Scholars. These awards are based on scholarship and leadership.

Graduation with Honors

The titles summa cum laude, magna cum laude, and cum laude are awarded by the administration upon the recommendation of the Honors Committee and approval of the faculty. The title summa cum laude is awarded to students who have a grade point average of 3.850, and to students who have successfully completed an Honors Thesis and have a grade point average of 3.750; the title magna cum laude to students who have a grade point average of 3.650; and the title cum laude to students who have a grade point average of 3.500. A student must have completed at least half the required hours for graduation at Queens College to be eligible for graduation with honors. Her grade point average will be determined by work taken at Queens.

Honors Courses

English 105, Section H

Not offered 1976-77 / 3 Hrs.

Open to freshman Queens Scholars.

In-Course Honors

Terms I, II, and Inter-Term / 1 Hr.

Hon. 199, open to students in 100-level courses.
Hon. 299, open to students in 200-level courses.
Hon. 399, open to students in 300-level courses.
Hon. 499, open to students in 400-level courses.

An opportunity for the student to pursue additional work under a common theme in a course in which she is enrolled. May consist of special readings, a term paper, or a presentation; but need not be restricted to these. Nature of the work to be decided upon by the student and the professor with written notification to the Honors Committee at the beginning of the term. Each of the above courses may be taken more than once for credit.

Honors 250: Directed Study

Terms I, II, and Inter-Term / 1 to 3 Hrs.

Open to freshmen who have completed at least one term and to sophomores. A detailed study of some topic of special interest, resulting in a paper and oral examination. Work is done under the direction of a faculty member and with the joint supervision and evaluation of the Honors Committee. Proposal for study is submitted to the Honors Committee for approval at the beginning of the term. May be repeated only once for credit.

Honors 300: Honors Colloquium

Term II / 3 Hrs.

Open to sophomores and juniors. Opportunity for discussion, reading, analysis and research on a contemporary topic. Topic to be announced during Term I.

Topic for 1976-77: Women and the Law

Term II / 3 Hrs.

A study of the legal status of women. Attention will be given to administrative, judicial, and legislative law.

Honors 350: Directed Reading

Terms I, II, and Inter-Term / 1 to 3 Hrs.

Open to juniors and seniors. An opportunity to explore related writings in a field of special interest to the student; readings under supervision of a faculty member. Proposal for study is submitted to the Honors Committee for approval at the beginning of the term. May be taken more than once for credit.

Honors 450: Honors Research

Terms I, II, and Inter-Term / 1 to 4 Hrs.

Open to juniors and seniors. An opportunity for research in a field of student's special interest, resulting in a paper and oral examination. Work done under the direction of a faculty member with the joint supervision and evaluation of the Honors Committee. Detailed proposal for research is submitted to the Honors Committee for approval by the end of the term preceding the project. May be taken more than once for credit.

Honors 490-491: Senior Honors Thesis

Terms I, II, and Inter-Term / 4 to 6 Hrs.

Open to seniors who have completed five hours of honors work. An opportunity for extended research in a field of special interest, resulting in a paper and oral defense before an examining committee. Work done under the direction of a faculty member with the joint supervision and evaluation of the Honors Committee. Detailed proposal for research is submitted to the Honors Committee for approval by the end of the term preceding the project. The phrase "With Honors Thesis" is printed on the diploma of a student who successfully completes these two courses.

Interdisciplinary Studies

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

The college offers a series of interdisciplinary seminars.

General Studies

100 INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES: INTRODUCTION TO GENERAL STUDIES

Terms I and II

Topic for 1976-77: Coping With the Future: A Transdisciplinary Perspective

An interdisciplinary seminar which, through the use of selected books and other media, (1) takes the problem-focused approach to general education and demonstrates the integration of knowledge as desirable in our modern day world and (2) develops skills mainly in writing, reading, and interpretive thinking and study. Aims to foster an awareness of the transactions of disciplines, to afford a common intellectual experience, to foster a sense of community in the special program, to facilitate reentry, and to afford the student an opportunity to examine her academic interests and needs.

Required of all General Studies candidates.

Not open to regular students.

Contemporary Affairs

200 INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

Term II / 3 Hrs.

An interdisciplinary course in a major contemporary issue, offered in response to student and faculty interest. Credit as elective only.

Folklore

203 INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES: EUROPEAN FOLKLORE

Term I / 3 Hrs.

Introduction to European folklore traditions, including study of folktales, customs, festivals and art forms.

Credit as elective only.

204 INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES: AMERICAN FOLKLORE

Term II / 3 Hrs.

Introduction to American Folklore traditions, including Indian Folklore, Black American traditions and folklife of other ethnic groups.

440 INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES: INDEPENDENT STUDIES IN FOLKLORE

Terms II and Inter-Term / 1-4 Hrs.

Problems and techniques in folklore research, including local fieldwork and report on a topic involving oral folklore, social custom, material culture, or folk arts. PREREQUISITE: Interdisciplinary Studies 203 or 204 or permission of instructor.

May be repeated for up to four hours credit.

Science

101, 102 ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE

101, Term I; 102, Term II / 3, 3 Hrs.

A study of the environmental issues confronting our present society: energy, population, pollution, natural resources, food production, materials production, waste disposal, transportation. Certain scientific principles are considered to the extent necessary for a basic understanding of the environmental problems, and some attention is given to the role of science in the development of and attempted solutions to these problems.

Major topics included in Environmental Science 101 are the earth and its place in the universe, the generation of electric energy, air pollution, thermal pollution, radioactivity, radioactive wastes and their disposal. Topics in Environmental Science 102 include land use, food production, population, water pollution, food additives, the urban and suburban environment, solid wastes, noise pollution, transportation.

These courses are intended primarily for non-science majors. They will be taught by a team of instructors selected from the biology, chemistry, and physics departments. Environmental Science 101, 102 will fulfill the Area IV distributed requirements. PREREQUISITE: Environmental Science 101 or a college level physical science course is prerequisite to Environmental Science 102.

Three hours lecture, two hours laboratory a week.

450 INTERDISCIPLINARY SENIOR THESIS

Terms I, II, and Inter-Term / 3 Hrs.

Designed primarily for students who are pursuing a self-structured major or any student engaged in interdisciplinary study at the advanced level. The project is supervised and evaluated by the student's major advisor and at least one person from another department. Open only to seniors. Students pursuing an honors degree should plan to take Honors 490 instead of Interdisciplinary Thesis 450.

Division of Natural Science and Mathematics

Biology

To serve the needs of the liberal arts student the department offers introductory work in biology with a contemporary molecular emphasis relating the field to the physical sciences and other disciplines.

Careers

Major study in biology provides basic preparation leading to work in research and medical laboratories, government positions, related businesses, teaching, and graduate study in biology, medicine, hospital administration or veterinary science.

A unique program in marine science is offered each summer at Pawleys Island, South Carolina. The department is also affiliated with the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, Ocean Springs, Mississippi. Courses available to Queens students are listed at the end of this section.

Major: Bachelor of Arts

Biology 103, 204, 206 and 25 credit hours from biology courses numbered 200 and above as approved by the major advisor. Students majoring in biology are required to take eight credit hours of chemistry and Mathematics 105 or 112 or 206. Chemistry 403, 404 may be substituted for biology electives. Candidates for teaching certificates may substitute up to four credit hours of Education 442 for biology electives. Students majoring in biology are advised to take physics and organic chemistry.

Major: Bachelor of Science

Biology 103, 204, 206; and three courses from 301, 302, 303, 304, 310, 405, 425; two courses from 300, 306, 315, 401, 402, and nine hours of biology courses numbered 200 and above as approved by the major advisor. Students majoring in this program are required to take two years of chemistry including a term of organic chemistry; Physics 101, 102; Mathematics 112 and 211 or 206. In addition intermediate-level proficiency is required in a foreign language.

Minor

A minor in biology consists of Biology 103, 204, 206 and eight hours of approved biology electives.

Distributed Requirements

The requirement for Area IV is met with Biology 103.

Prerequisite

Biology 103 is prerequisite to all other courses offered in the department.

103 INTRODUCTION TO BIOLOGY

Terms I and II / 4 Hrs.

Course to introduce the student to methods and philosophy of biological science and to acquaint the student with current problems in the field; emphasis on the ecological approach with special attention to man-created problems.

Six hours lecture and laboratory a week.

Term I / 4 Hrs.

A study of the structure of the human body. Laboratory includes human osteology and mammalian dissection.

Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week.

(May not be counted toward major or as distributed requirement.)

112 HUMAN PHYSIOLOGY

Term II / 4 Hrs.

A study of the function of the human body. Laboratory study designed to demonstrate basic physiological principles.

Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week.

(May not be counted toward major or as distributed requirement.)

120 INTRODUCTION TO MEDICAL MICROBIOLOGY

Summer / 3 Hrs.

Principles of microbiology with emphasis on the pathogenic bacteria, viruses, rickettsiae, and fungi. Laboratory includes methods for cultivation, isolation, and identification of the above.

(May not be counted toward major or as distributed requirement.)

204 PLANT BIOLOGY

Term I / 4 Hrs.

Morphological survey of the plant kingdom; study of life cycles emphasizing evolutionary changes; consideration of economic aspects.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

206 ANIMAL BIOLOGY

Term II / 4 Hrs.

Survey of the animal kingdom; study of the organization and activities of animals with emphasis on man; and evolution of animal life.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

230 FIELD STUDIES IN BIOLOGY

Offered on demand / 1-4 Hrs.

Includes studies in selected habitats or of particular groups of animals or plants, or travel-study to unusual habitats or ecosystems.

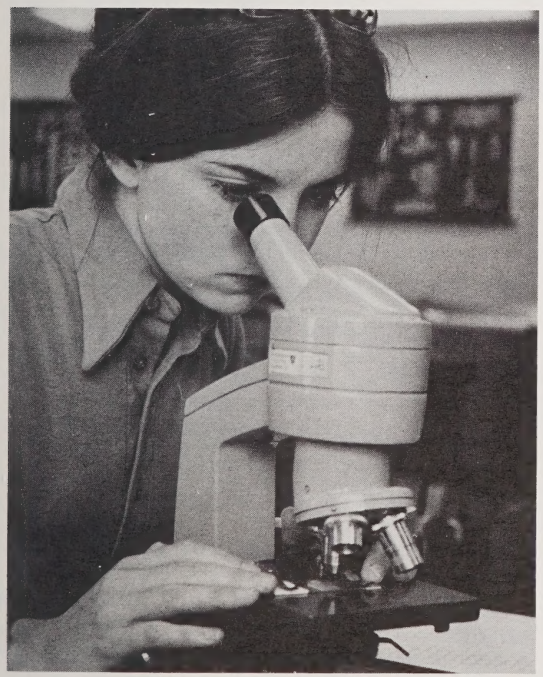
Topics are announced annually. PREREQUISITE: Permission of the instructor. May be repeated under different subtitles.

300 CELL BIOLOGY

Term I / 4 Hrs.

Study of cell structure and physiology. Laboratory emphasizes research methods including instruments and techniques used in studying cells. PREREQUISITE: At least one year of college chemistry; Biology 204 and 206 recommended.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.



301 VERTEBRATE EMBRYOLOGY

Term II / 4 Hrs.

Study of development with emphasis on vertebrates and a brief introduction to experimental embryology. Laboratory emphasizes amphibians and birds. PREREQUISITE: Biology 206.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

302 COMPARATIVE VERTEBRATE ANATOMY

Term I / 4 Hrs.

Review of the evolutionary history of vertebrates with comparative study of their systems. Laboratory dissection of dogfish, mud puppy, and cat. PREREQUISITE: Biology 206.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

303 INVERTEBRATE ZOOLOGY

Term II / 4 Hrs.

Study of the invertebrate phyla; comparative anatomy and physiology; natural history; systematics and evolution. Laboratory includes physiological experiments and emphasizes marine forms. PREREQUISITE: Biology 206.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

304 ECOLOGY

Term I / 4 Hrs.

Relationship of organisms to their environment; populations and communities; aquatic and terrestrial habitats; statistical methods. Laboratory includes both experimental and field studies. PREREQUISITE: Biology 204, 206.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory or field work a week.

306 LABORATORY MICROBIOLOGY

Term II / 4 Hrs.

General survey of microorganisms with emphasis on morphology, metabolism, ecology, and taxonomy of bacteria. Laboratory includes independent studies. PREREQUISITE: Eight credit hours of chemistry.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

310 MARINE BIOLOGY

Summer / 4 Hrs.

Introduction to oceanography and marine biology with emphasis on ecology and distribution and classification of local fauna and flora. PREREQUISTE: Biology 206; Biology 303 recommended.

Four weeks, summer session only, at Pawleys Island, South Carolina.

315 HISTOLOGY AND MICROTECHNIQUE

Offered on demand / 4 Hrs.

The study of animal cells, tissues, and organs. Laboratory emphasizes practical experience in preparation of microscope slides. PREREQUISITE: Biology 206.

401 COMPARATIVE VERTEBRATE PHYSIOLOGY

Term I / 4 Hrs.

Study of the function of vertebrate systems. Comparisons made to invertebrate systems where appropriate. Includes lecture and laboratory experimentation. PREREQUISITES: Biology 302 or permission of instructor; one year college chemistry.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

402 GENETICS

Term II / 3 Hrs.

Principles of heredity and variation in plants and animals. PREREQUISTE: Mathematics 112 or permission of the instructor. Does not count toward major without Biology 402L.

Three hours lecture a week.

402L GENETICS LABORATORY

Term II / 1 Hr.

Laboratory methods in breeding genetically important species. COREQUISITE: Biology 402.

Three hours laboratory a week.

405 PLANT SYSTEMATICS

Term II / 4 Hrs.

Development of systems of classification; study of basic principles; practice in identification; collection and study of members of plant families represented in local flora. PREREQUISITE: Biology 204.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

425 BIOLOGY OF PARASITISM

Term II / 4 Hrs.

Introduction to biological principles involved in parasitism of animals including man; host-parasite relationships; ecology; structure and classification. PREREQUISITE OR COREQUISITE: Biology 303.

Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week.

430 TOPICS IN BIOLOGY

Terms I or II when there is sufficient demand / 1-4 Hrs.

This course provides the opportunity for a faculty member and a group of interested students to study a subject that is not offered on a regular basis in the curriculum. Topics are announced annually. May be repeated for credit under different subtitles. PREREQUISITE: One year of college biology. May vary with topic. Lecture and laboratory hours vary with the hours credit and the course taught.

450 INDEPENDENT STUDIES IN BIOLOGY

Terms I and II / 1 to 4 Hrs.

Research projects in the area of the student's interest; written report and/or oral examination may be required; summer research in marine biology. May be taken more than once but total credits may not exceed six hours.

Admission by permission of the instructor.

460 BIOLOGY SEMINAR

Terms I or II / I, I Hrs.

Invited guests, faculty, and students present oral reports on topics of their specific interest and experience in biology and related fields. PREREQUISITE: 12 hours of biology above the 100 level or permission of the instructor. May be repeated for credit.

One hour per week lecture, or discussion.

Gulf Coast Research Laboratory

Queens students may receive credit for the following courses which are given at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory at Ocean Springs, Mississippi. These are offered during summer session only.

BIOLOGY 361 Marine Botany / 4 Hrs.

A survey, based upon local examples of the principal groups of marine algae and maritime flowering plants, treating structure, reproduction, distribution, identification, and ecology. PREREQUISITE: 10 hours of biology, including introductory botany.

BIOLOGY 362 Marine Vertebrate Zoology and Ichthyology /6 Hrs.

A general study of the marine Chordata, including lower groups and the mammals and birds, with most emphasis on the fishes. PREREQUISITE: 16 hours of zoology including comparative anatomy.

BIOLOGY 452 Marine Microbiology / 5 Hrs.

A general course designed to introduce the student to the role of microorganisms in the overall ecology of the oceans and estuaries. Lecture and laboratory work includes sampling procedures, taxonomy of marine bacteria, mineralization, microbial fouling, pollution, and diseases of marine animals. PREREQUISITE: Biology 306.

BIOLOGY 461 Parasites of Marine Animals / 6 Hrs.

A study of the parasites of marine animals with emphasis on the morphology, taxonomy, life histories, and host-parasite relationships. PREREQUISITE: General parasitology (Biology 425).

Lecture, laboratory, and field work are included.

Chemistry

The bachelor of arts program emphasizes the breadth of liberal arts study in terms of a wide range of elective courses together with a sound education in chemical principles and laboratory skills. Teacher certification may be obtained in the B. A. program.

The bachelor of science program is designed to provide an educational experience with more depth in science and mathematics. Students are prepared by this program to pursue careers in chemistry and medicine which will require graduate study or formal professional training in medical school. Well-equipped laboratories and qualified staff make possible a special emphasis on clinical and industrial applications of chemistry.

Careers

Students planning to pursue careers in science and medically related fields should take courses in chemistry. These careers include chemistry, biochemistry, biology, forensic science, medicine, nursing, laboratory technology, medical technology, dental technology, physical therapy, veterinary medicine, and nuclear medical technology.

Majors in Biochemistry

Major for a B. A. in biological chemistry: Chemistry 101, 102, 208, 303, 308, 403, 404, 405, 460, 461; Laboratories 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9; 12 credit hours of approved biology courses above the 100 level; Physics 101, 102; Mathematics 112. Mathematics 211 and a foreign language are recommended.

Major for a B. S. in biological chemistry: Chemistry 101, 102, 208, 303, 304, 308, 403, 404, 460, 461; Laboratories 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9; 12 credit hours of approved biology courses above the 100 level; Physics 101, 102; Mathematics 112, 211. Proficiency in a foreign language at the intermediate level is required, and Chemistry 405 is recommended.

Minor

A minor in chemistry requires completion of any three courses in chemistry beyond the 100 level.

A minor in biochemistry requires completion of Chemistry 403, 404, and 405.

Distributed Requirements

The requirement, Area IV, may be met by Chemistry 101; also Chemistry 102 or Chemistry 303 by permission of department.

Course Sequences

After completing Chemistry 102, students are advised to take courses in the order listed in either of two sequences:

Instrumentation—Physical Chemistry sequence: 208, 307, 308.

Organic Chemistry—Biological Chemistry sequence: 303, 403, 404.

Other courses may be taken in any sequence provided prerequisites are met.

Laboratories

The department requires a student to register for a laboratory with each class course.

101 GENERAL CHEMISTRY I

Term I / 3 Hrs.

This course includes the structure of the atom; the structure of the nucleus and nuclear chemistry; the Periodic Table; chemical bonding; solids, liquids, and gases; and stoichiometric relationships, the properties of solutions, colloidal systems, chemical equilibria, thermochemistry, electrochemistry, metals, and non-metals.

Three hours lecture a week.

102 GENERAL CHEMISTRY II

Term II /3 Hrs.

This course is an introduction to organic chemistry and biochemistry, including functional groups, reactions, synthesis, and mechanisms. PREREQUISITE: Chemistry 101 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours lecture a week.

208 INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS I

Term I / 3 Hrs.

Introduction to instrumentation and instrumental analysis with emphasis on fundamental electronic units, instrument design and construction and analytical application. PREREQUISITE: Chemistry 102 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours lecture a week.

303 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY I

Term I / 3 Hrs.

Introductory course including an integrated survey of the more important compounds of the aliphatic and aromatic series; emphasis on problems in organic synthesis. PREREQUISITE: Chemistry 102 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours lecture a week.

307 INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS II

Term II / 3 Hrs.

A second course in instrumental analysis with emphasis on analytical methodology. PREREQUISITE: Chemistry 208.

Three hours lecture a week.

308 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY I

Term I / Alternate years; offered 1976-77 / 3 Hrs.

Study of the structure of gases, the physical properties of matter, the laws of thermodynamics and the principles of equilibria. PREREQUISITE: Chemistry 102 or permission of the instructor; Mathematics 112; Physics 101, which may be taken concurrently.

Three hours lecture a week.

403 BIOLOGICAL CHEMISTRY I

Term II / 3 Hrs.

Study of the chemistry of carbohydrates, fatty acids, lipids, amino acids and proteins; solutions, especially pH measurement and calculations; antigen-antibody reactions in immunoelectrophoresis; special topics in biochemical research (each student presents a report). PREREQUISITE: Chemistry 303.

404 BIOLOGICAL CHEMISTRY II

Term I / 3 Hrs.

Emphasis is on enzymes and metabolism with special reference to recent work on enzyme kinetics. PREREQUISITE: Chemistry 403 or Biology 300 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours lecture a week.

405 PHYSIOLOGICAL CHEMISTRY

Term II / 3 Hrs.

A course applying principles of biochemistry to the interpretation of normal and abnormal genetic and physiological states occurring in Mammalia; discussion of digestive processes, fluid and acid-base balance, hormonal influence on physiological states, organ function tests, and excretory processes. PREREQUISITE: Biological Chemistry II.

Three hours lecture a week.

450 DIRECTED INDIVIDUAL STUDIES

Terms I and II / 2, 3, or 4 Hrs.

Individual research conducted by the student. PREREQUISITE: Open to advanced students by permission of the instructor.

Three, six or nine hours of consultation and laboratory work a week.

460, 461 CHEMISTRY SEMINAR

Terms I and II / 1, 1 Hrs.

Faculty and students will present oral reports on new or important developments in chemistry or in fields directly related to chemistry. PREREQUISITE: Chemistry 208 or 303 or permission of the instructor. May be repeated for credit.

One hour lecture a week.

Chemistry Laboratories

LABORATORY 1—INTRODUCTION I

Term I / 1 Hr.

This laboratory introduces the student to elementary glass-working, general laboratory equipment and techniques, and the principles of quantitative operations.

Three hours laboratory a week.

LABORATORY 2—INTRODUCTION II

Term II / 1 Hr.

The student in this laboratory is introduced to semimicro technique, chromatography, spectroscopy and other tools of qualitative and quantitative analysis. PREREQUISITE: Laboratory 1 or permission of the department.

Three hours laboratory a week.

LABORATORY 3—INSTRUMENTATION I

Term I / 1 Hr.

The student is introduced to the practical aspects of instrument design and construction and to the calculations and techniques of quantitative analysis. PREREQUISITE: Laboratory 2 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours laboratory a week.

LABORATORY 4—INSTRUMENTATION II

Term II / 1 Hr.

The student undertakes the practical evaluation of experimental methods and instruments best suited for specific advanced analytical problems. PREREQUISITE: Laboratory 3.

Three hours laboratory a week.

LABORATORY 5—INSTRUMENTATION III

Term I / 1 Hr.

The student is introduced to the basic devices for precise physical measurement and undertakes a significant independent laboratory investigation that involves instrumentation and careful physical measurements. PREREQUISITE: Laboratory 4.

Three hours laboratory a week.

LABORATORY 6—SYNTHESIS I

Term I / 1 Hr.

Course introduces the student to the basic experimental techniques of advanced chemical synthesis of both organic and inorganic compounds. PREREQUISITE: Laboratory 2.

Three hours laboratory a week.

LABORATORY 7—BIOCHEMISTRY I

Term II / 1 Hr.

Basic principles and techniques of biochemical laboratory investigation introduced; work is quantitative in nature. PREREQUISITE: Laboratory 3 and 6 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours laboratory a week.

LABORATORY 8—BIOCHEMISTRY II

Term I / 1 Hr.

Course is a continuation of Laboratory 7 with special emphasis given to advanced biochemical methodology and to quantitative measurement. PREREQUISITE: Laboratory 7.

Three hours laboratory a week.

LABORATORY 10—INSTRUMENTATION IV

Term II / 1 Hr.

Recent developments in laboratory instrumentation and methodology with emphasis on independent laboratory work by the student in an area of current research interest. PREREQUISITE: Laboratory 5 and 7.

Three hours laboratory a week.

LABORATORY 11—BIOCHEMISTRY III

Term II / 1 Hr.

Classical clinical laboratory methods used to investigate the influence of carbohydrate, protein, lipid, hormonal, and inorganic constituents of body fluids on the physiological state of the individual animal. Open to advanced students by permission of the instructor.

Three hours laboratory a week.

NOTE: Laboratories 3 through 11 may be scheduled for other terms when approved by the department.

Mathematics

It is the nature of mathematics to examine concepts from nearly all areas of thought using a uniquely abstract and deductive approach. Although mathematical investigation often involves the use of expressions which represent numbers, many of the discoveries of the discipline extend beyond the quantitative.

Careers

The department of mathematics offers courses which reflect the general nature of mathematics while providing the student with an understanding of special tools such as statistics and the calculus. The student majoring in mathematics can choose a program which provides preparation for teaching at the secondary school level, pursuing actuarial work or work with computers, or continuing the study of mathematics in graduate school. In addition, a rigorous training in mathematics is excellent intellectual conditioning for a wide variety of careers.

Computer Center

The department manages a computer center having direct access to an IBM 370, Model 165 computer. The computer center is equipped with a teletype, key punch, card reader and printer, and electronic calculators.

Major

A major in mathematics consists of Calculus I, II, III, IV, V, Linear Algebra, and a course from each of the following fields of mathematics: Algebra (401); Analysis (415, 416); Applied Mathematics (405, 406, 409); Computer Science (100, 200, 300); Geometry/Topology (304, 307). Physics 101 and 102 are strongly recommended.

Minor

A minor in mathematics consists of Calculus I, II, III, a three hour course numbered 200 or above, and two additional three hour courses numbered 300 or above.

Distributed Requirements

Any three hour course numbered 105 or above can be used to satisfy the distributed requirements for Area II. Mathematics 103 counts for three distribution hours if taken with any three hour course numbered 105 or above.

100 INTRODUCTION TO PL/I PROGRAMMING

1 Hr.

Tape and card input to the IBM 370; writing and running simple PL/I programs. This course is on a Pass/No Record basis.

101 PRECALCULUS MATHEMATICS

3 Hrs. / Offered on demand

Sets; equations and inequalities; mathematical induction; relations, functions and their graphs; trigonometric functions.

This course is for students who plan to major in mathematics or the natural sciences but who do not have the preparation for Mathematics 112.

102 BUSINESS MATHEMATICS

3 Hrs.

A review of basic mathematics followed by the study of the fundamentals of percentage, simple interest, compound interest, and annuities, with applications.

103 MATHEMATICS FOR THE ELEMENTARY TEACHER

Term II /3 Hrs.

Designed for early childhood and intermediate teacher certification. Sets and logic; enumeration conventions; the integers; number theory; rational numbers; metric geometry.

105 FINITE MATHEMATICS

Terms I and II / 3 Hrs.

Statements, connectives, truth-tables and valid arguments; sets and their relation to statements; partitions and counting problems; probability including conditional probability.

112 CALCULUS I

Terms I and II / 3 Hrs.

Limits and continuity; the derivative and its applications, including curve-sketching and maximum/minimum problems; the law of the mean. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 101 or its equivalent.

200 COBOL PROGRAMMING

2 Hrs.

Students will learn to write and run programs in the Common Business Oriented Language (COBOL). The course will also include a brief introduction to IBM OS 370 Job Control Language and to system utilities. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 100.

206 STATISTICAL METHODS

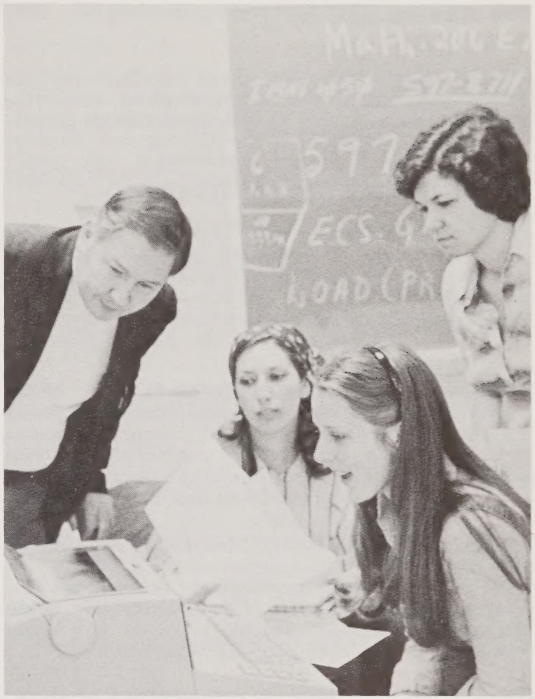
Terms I and II / 3 Hrs.

Introduction to the concept of statistical inference with emphasis on applications using the normal, t, chi-square, and F distributions. Primarily for persons concentrating in the behavioral or social sciences. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 101, 105, or 112.

211, 212 CALCULUS II, III

Terms I and II / 3, 3 Hrs.

The law of the mean; related rates; the definite integral; exponential and logarithmic functions; circular and hyperbolic functions; L'Hospital's rule; formal integration; surfaces and curves; vector functions; partial derivatives. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 112 or its equivalent.



250 MATHEMATICS PRACTICUM

Terms I, II, and Inter-Term / 3 Hrs.

A student will work with a local firm under the joint supervision of a representative of the firm and a member of the mathematics department. The work will usually require a background in computing (such as supplied by Mathematics 100) or in elementary statistics (Mathematics 206). This course is on a Pass/No Record basis.

Admission by permission of the department.

300 FORTRAN PROGRAMMING

Term II / 3 Hrs.

An introduction to FORTRAN programming, including DO loops, arrays, and subroutines. The student will write, debug, and run programs to process numerical and non-numerical information. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 211, previously or concurrently, or permission of the instructor.

303 LINEAR ALGEBRA

Term II / 3 Hrs.

Coordinate geometry; vectors and three-dimensional geometry; matrices and determinants; linear transformations. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 112.

304 GEOMETRY

Term I / 3 Hrs.

Modern approach to the study of Euclidean and non-Euclidean geometries, including incidence and affine geometries; designed especially for students preparing to teach.

307 INTRODUCTION TO TOPOLOGY

3 Hrs.

An examination of continuity, connectedness, and compactness. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 211.

311, 312 CALCULUS IV, V

3, 3 Hrs.

Multiple integrals; series; tangent fields; series solutions of equations; exact and first order linear equations; homogeneous and nonhomogeneous linear equations with constant coefficients; systems of equations. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 212. Calculus IV and V may be taken in either order.

401 INTRODUCTION TO MODERN ALGEBRA

Term I / 3 Hrs.

Presentation of the theory of integral domains, fields, groups, rings, vector spaces, matrices, and other selected topics. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 212.

405 INTRODUCTION TO PROBABILITY AND MATHEMATICAL STATISTICS

Term II / 3 Hrs.

Introductory study of probability as a mathematical system; random variables and distribution functions; mathematical models; testing hypotheses; estimation of parameters. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 211.

406 STATISTICAL INFERENCE

3 Hrs.

Study of the relation of sample to population with the consideration of statistical problems such as testing of hypotheses, estimation, and experimental design. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 212 and permission of the instructor.

409 NUMERICAL ANALYSIS

3 Hrs.

Roots of algebraic and transcendental equations; the difference calculus and interpolation; matrix inversion and eigen-values; initial-value problems for differential equations. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 312; may be taken concurrently.

415 INTRODUCTION TO REAL VARIABLE THEORY

3 Hrs.

The real numbers; set theory; metric spaces; Euclidean spaces; uniform continuity; series of functions; the Riemann-Stieltjes integral. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 312.

416 INTRODUCTION TO COMPLEX ANALYSIS

3 Hrs.

Algebra and geometry of complex numbers; analytic functions; contour integrals; Taylor and Laurent series; conformal mappings. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 312; may be taken concurrently.

425 MATHEMATICS SEMINAR

3 Hrs.

Seminar in advanced topics of mathematics.

Open to seniors in the mathematics department with permission of the instructor. PREREQUISITE: Mathematics 312.

Nuclear Medical Technology

The department offers work leading to the degree of bachelor of science with a major in nuclear medical technology and a two-year program leading to the degree of associate of science in nuclear medical technology.

Major: Bachelor of Science

Biology 111, 112, 120, 402, 402L; Chemistry 101, 102, 303, 403, 405; Chemistry Labs 1, 2, 6, 7, 11; English 101, 109; Mathematics 100, 112, 206, 300; Nuclear Medicine 100, 101, 102, 103P, 104, 200, 200L, 202, 204, 205P, 206P, 302, 302L, 307; Physics 101, 102; Psychology 302.

Associate of Science in Nuclear Medical Technology

Required for the associate degree are: Biology 111, 112, 120; Chemistry 101, 102, 303, 403; Chemistry Labs 1, 2, 6, 7; English 101, 109; Mathematics 112, 206; Nuclear Medicine 100, 101, 102, 103P, 104, 200, 200L, 202, 204, 205P, 206P , 302, 302L; Physics 101, 102; Psychology 302. Two physical education credits with a grade of P are also required.

Distributed Requirements

Nuclear medicine courses may not be used to fulfill the distributed requirements.

100 MEDICAL TERMINOLOGY

Inter-Term/1 Hr.

A study of basic medical terminology designed to acquaint the student with the correct spelling and pronounciation of medical and anatomical terms. Instruction will rely largely upon audio-visual resources.

101 NUCLEAR MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY I

Term I/1 Hr.

A study of the nuclear medical technology which emphasizes special "in vitro" procedures. An introductory course in clinical nuclear medicine. The basic principles of the major "in vivo" studies and major clinical nuclear medicine procedures will be discussed.

102 NUCLEAR MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY II

Term II/1 Hr.

An introduction to the radiopharmaceuticals and instruments used in nuclear medicine. Radiation safety procedures will be discussed. PREREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 101.

103P NUCLEAR MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY INTERNSHIP

Summer/6 Hrs.

Practical experience in a clinical setting with emphasis on scanning. Radiation protection practices and routine quality control of instrumental accuracy will be observed and used. Practical experience in a clinical setting with emphasis on the more advanced applications of nuclear medicine procedures. Preparation and use of radiopharmaceuticals; preparation of the patient for such studies. PREREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 102.

104 RADIOBIOLOGY AND RADIOPHARMACY

Inter-Term/4 Hrs.

A course in which the fundamentals of radiobiology, a systems sensitivity (normal and neoplastic) to radiation, radiation pathology and the biological effects of radiation are stressed. Emphasis is placed upon the effects of radiation and the effects of radiation absorption on tissue recovery rate. An introduction to the function of the radiopharmacy, production of radionuclides, quality control of radiopharmaceuticals and radiopharmacy mathematics. PREREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 101.

200 NUCLEAR MEDICINE INSTRUMENTATION

Term I/ 3 Hrs.

A study of practical electronic design of radiation detection instruments and circuit construction. Use of instruments such as the Geiger-Muller counter, ionization chambers, proportional counters, and radiation monitoring devices are discussed. A study in detail of the use of the well-counter, scanners, cameras, single and multi-channel analyzers as related to clinical nuclear medicine. Emphasis is placed upon Na I (TI) detectors, GeLi detectors, amplifiers, spectrometers, ratemeters and scalers. Statistics related to nuclear counting are introduced. PREREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 102, Physics 102.

200L NUCLEAR MEDICINE INSTRUMENTATION LABORATORY

Term I/ 2 Hrs.

A lab course which compliments Nuclear Medicine 200. An understanding of instrumentation discussed in lecture is gained through experimental and practical use. COREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 200.

202 RADIOIMMUNOASSAY

Inter-Term / 4 Hrs.

A review of the basic units of measurement with emphasis on the metric system. The organization of living matter from the chemical point of view is discussed. Emphasis will be placed on protein structure and competitive protein binding analysis. PREREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 200.

204 PRINCIPLES OF NUCLEAR MEDICINE

Term II/ 3 Hrs.

Principles and applications of radionuclide studies of the gastrointestinal and cardiopulmonary systems. PREREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 102.

205P LABORATORY PRACTICUM (PRINCIPLES OF NUCLEAR MEDICINE)

Term II 1) 2 Hrs.

Directed clinical learning experience in special areas of the nuclear medicine laboratory. Radionuclide generators, radiation safety, management and administration of nuclear medicine department will be presented in lecture series. COREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 204 or permission of the instructor.

206P NUCLEAR MEDICAL INTERNSHIP II

Summer/ 12 Hrs.

Practical experience in a clinical setting with emphasis on "in vitro" procedures and therapeutic use of radionuclides. A detailed study of the design and use of specific instruments utilized in clinical nuclear medicine. Performance of more sophisticated studies in "in vitro" and "in vivo" procedures employing radioisotopes and practical therapeutic use of radionuclides. PREREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 103P and 204.

302 NUCLEAR PHYSICS AND HEALTH PHYSICS

Term II/ 3 Hrs.

An introduction to the concepts of atomic and nuclear radiation physics. Nuclear decay schemes and concepts of radioactive decay are discussed followed by a thorough discussion of the interactions of radiation with matter. Health physics will entail a study of radiation safety, procedures for reducing the exposure of physicians, technologists and patients, Atomic Energy Commission and North Carolina State Regulations and radiation monitoring methods used in nuclear medicine departments. PREREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 200.

302L NUCLEAR PHYSICS AND HEALTH PHYSICS LABORATORY

Term II / 1 Hr.

A lab course accompanying Nuclear Medicine 302. An understanding of theory obtained in lecture is gained through experimentation with nuclear physics and health physics principles. COREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 302.

307 RADIATION DOSIMETRY AND ADVANCED HEALTH PHYSICS

Term I / 3 Hrs.

Topics in all areas of radiation dosimetry will be discussed. Particular emphasis will be placed on internal radiation dosimetry and health physics problems as related to the field of nuclear medicine. PREREQUISITE: Nuclear Medicine 302 or permission of the instructor.

Physics

Distributed Requirements

Physics 101, 102, or 103 will meet the requirements, Area IV.

101, 102 GENERAL PHYSICS

101, Term I; 102, Term II /4, 4 Hrs.

Beginning course in physics covering the fundamental principles of mechanics, heat, sound, light, electricity and magnetism, and atomic physics. PREREQUISITE: Elementary algebra and plane geometry; Physics 101 for Physics 102.

Four hours lecture and three hours laboratory each week.

103 PHYSICS OF SOUND

Term II / 3 Hrs.

An elementary treatment of generation, propagation, and detection of sound; designed primarily for music majors, but should be of interest to anyone with some music background.

Two hours lecture and two hours laboratory each week.

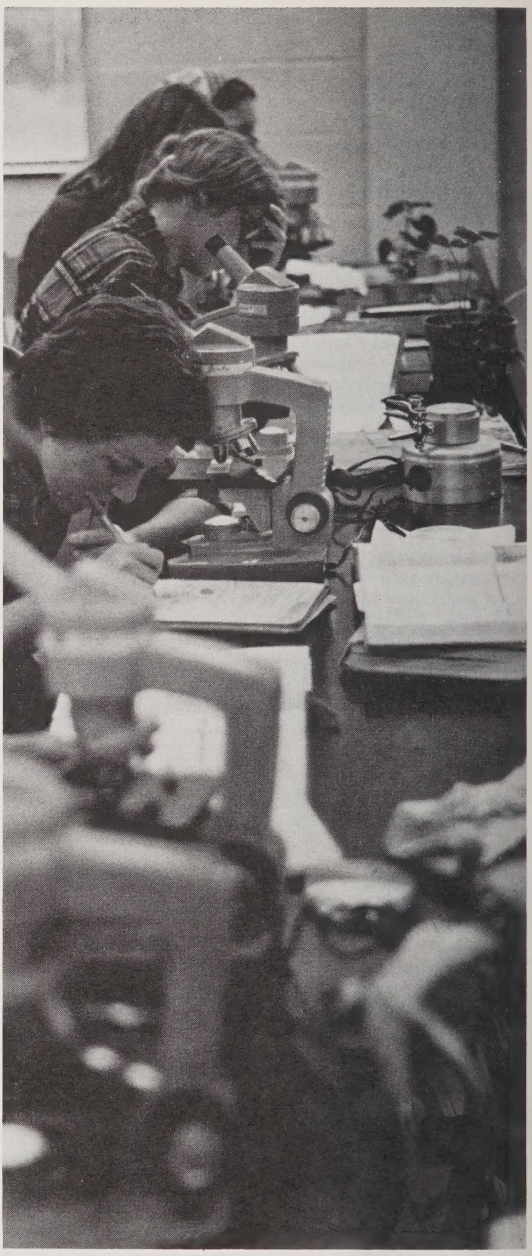
105 RADIOLOGIC PHYSICS

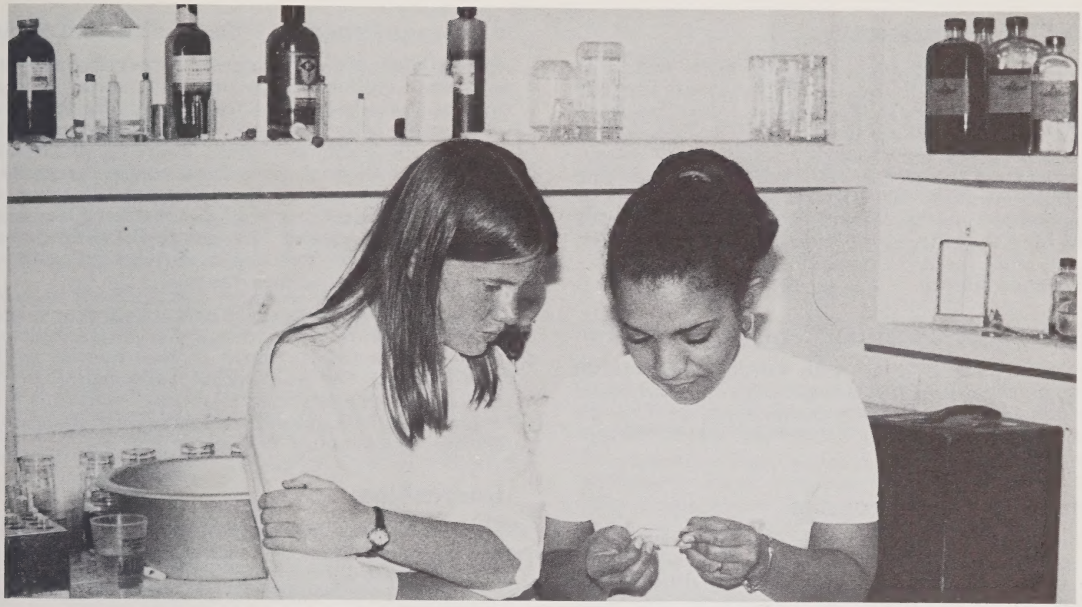
Summer School / 4 Hrs.

Selected topics in mechanics, atomic structure, electricity and magnetism, ionizing radiation, production and properties of x-rays, radiation dosimetry and protection; designed to provide students in a radiologic technology program with a basic understanding of the physical principles involved in the generation and use of x-rays.

Offered during summer school only; four weeks; 10 lecture hours and nine laboratory hours per week.

Students may not receive credit for both Physics 102 and Physics 105.





Special Programs

Nursing Programs

Queens offers a variety of programs for students interested in nursing.

Cooperative Program with Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing

The Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing in Charlotte and Queens College have a cooperative arrangement under which the college provides basic academic instruction to students enrolled in the hospital's three-year Diploma of Nursing program. Students in this program live at the hospital nursing school and take a full academic load at Queens during their first year. College credit hours earned at Queens in this program are transferable. Participants in this program become Registered Nurses when graduated from the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing. Interested applicants should write the Director of Nursing Education, Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, P. O. Box 10157, Charlotte, North Carolina 28201.

Two-Year Pre-Nursing Curriculum

Students wishing to begin a course of study for becoming a registered nurse or for receiving a baccalaureate degree in nursing through the liberal arts program offered at Queens may enroll in the two-year pre-nursing curriculum described on page 29. This program will entail transfer to a nursing school of the student's choice after completion of the two-year Queens program.

Bachelor of Science Degree with a Major in Nursing

Queens also offers a program leading to a bachelor of science degree with a major in nursing for students who have already received professional training as nurses. This program is designed to meet the needs of trained nurses who desire further education and to satisfy the demands of hospital administrators who employ nurses with baccalaureate degrees.

As a prerequisite for admission to this program the applicant must have graduated as a Registered Nurse from an accredited school of nursing, such as the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing in Charlotte, or as an Associate in Nursing from an accredited junior college, such as Central Piedmont Community College, Charlotte.

Graduation requirements for Queens' bachelor of science degree with a major in nursing are a minimum of 120 credit hours in academic and professional courses with a cumulative quality point average of 2.000 in all work at Queens and the professional school and two non-academic credit hours in physical education. The candidate must complete at least 30 credit hours of academic work at Queens and must spend at Queens or in a Queens approved program the last year of training (full-time or part-time) prior to the conferring of the degree. The educational program is described on page

Students interested in this program should submit an application to Queens' director of admissions and include a transcript of all earned post-secondary credits so that the transfer credits applicable to the program may be determined as well as the courses needed to complete degree requirements.

Washington Semester

Through a cooperative arrangement with the American University, two Queens students annually may spend one term in Washington, D. C., for a study of American National Government in Action. The study is carried out through a seminar on Government in Action, an individual research project, and regular courses at the American University. Applicants must have completed Political Science 201 and have a quality point average of 2.600 or above. Application should be made through the department of political science.

Triangle Universities Computer Program

As a member of the North Carolina Educational Computing Service, Queens provides its students and faculty with the computer resources of the Triangle Universities Computer Center by direct teletype connection.

Marine Biology Program

The department of biology offers a four-week summer session in marine biology at Pawleys Island, South Carolina. In addition to the usual laboratory facilities and equipment, the college maintains a 28-foot boat for offshore collecting. Advanced students may undertake independent studies in the marine field.

In addition, Queens offers a special exchange program with the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs, Mississippi.

On-Campus Summer Programs

Queens operates a summer program consisting of two 3-week terms held during June and July. In addition to regular catalogue courses, there are special workshops and liberal arts offerings to meet experienced teachers' needs for certification renewal. Information on summer programs may be obtained from the dean of the college.

Continuing Education

Queens College sponsors a program of continuing education recognizing that opportunities in higher education should be available to members of the community who wish to continue study or to develop particular interests.

Charlotte Area Educational Consortium

Queens participates in the Charlotte Area Education Consortium, which includes 11 public and private colleges and universities in and near Charlotte. Through the consortium the resources of all participating institutions are available to Queens students who, if qualified, may enroll at one of the other colleges in any course not offered at Queens and receive full credit toward the Queens degree without the payment of additional fees.

Exchange Program with Davidson College

Queens College participates in a cooperative program of junior year exchange with Davidson College. Students at either college may elect to take the junior year at the other upon the recommendation of the college where the student is a degree candidate and the concurrence of the college where the student plans to study during the junior year. Recommendations are based on the demonstrated academic ability of the applicant, the approval of the proposed course of study, and the availability of space in particular courses or departments.

Students participating in the exchange are considered degree candidates at the college of original enrollment and are expected to return to that campus at the conclusion of the year. While participating in the exchange, students enjoy all the privileges and assume all the responsibilities of regular students at the host institution.

Internships

Queens College affirms its support of properly planned and supervised internships as useful and desirable educational experiences for its students. The college defines internships as out-of-class work experiences which use skills and theories learned in classroom settings.

Internships are of two types: exploratory internships and professional internships. The exploratory internship enables a student to gain knowledge in an area in which she may have an interest and to explore areas in which she may wish to develop a career. The student may earn a maximum of nine hours credit toward graduation requirements through exploratory internships. The professional internships are listed as catalogue courses and encompass practicums, field placement courses, major internships, and student teaching programs. These internships are an integral part of the academic program and are limited only by the requirements of a given major as described in the catalogue.

To be eligible for internships students should have the academic training necessary as a basis for such experiences. Generally, internships are restricted to upperclassmen; however, freshmen and sophomores with unusual backgrounds in or strong motivation for such work experiences are not excluded from participating in internships.

The student and a faculty internship advisor plan an internship. The advisor reports a grade and serves as a contact person on-campus for the intern and the project supervisor. Off-campus arrangements for internships are the responsibility of the student and the faculty internship advisor.

The student and faculty advisor are responsible for following the college internship guidelines that are available in the office of the dean of the college.

Government Internship Program

Queens College students may choose to participate in a government internship program designed to provide an understanding of practical politics as well as an introduction to government employment. The Queens program is based upon cooperation with existing programs sponsored by or with local, state, or national governmental institutions. There are also major efforts made to arrange individual internships outside these programs that may be tailored to the special needs or interests of a particular student.

Some of the internship opportunities involve stipends which may be used to help defray the costs of the internship to the student.

Students who enroll for internships should have a sound background in the social sciences as well as upperclass standing. Students who do not meet these qualifications are not prohibited from participating, but the type of internship for which they may qualify may be circumscribed.

Queens at Oxford Program

Queens College participates in a cooperative program of exchange with Warnborough House College, a private British college of higher education which is organized and administered by academics trained in the British educational system and located in Oxford, England.

Degree candidates at Queens College in good academic standing and with permission from both institutions may elect to study at Warnborough House College in any segment of the academic year up to a full academic year. First term freshmen are not allowed to participate. Final term seniors are not encouraged to participate. Likewise, Queens College is used by women students from Warnborough House College.

While participating in the exchange, students enjoy all the privileges and assume all the responsibilities of regular students at the host institution. Fees are payable to the host institution.

International Education

During the regular academic year, qualified students with at least a C average may study abroad under selected programs. The Faculty Committee on International Education, in cooperation with the dean of the college and the major advisor, must give prior approval to each applicant and each program.

The one-term program of the Experiment in International Living permits a student to earn as many as nine credit hours in various European countries, India, or Ghana; or as many as 12 credit hours if an independent study project is completed.

Queens also participates in the Association of United Colleges for Foreign Exchange and Study which provides Junior Year Programs in Strasbourg, France; Heidelberg, Germany; Lancaster, England; and at the London School of Economics.

(For further information concerning study abroad, refer to the section on the major in European studies listed under "Courses of Instruction.")

The Campus

Queens College is located on a large wooded campus in the Myers Park area of Charlotte and is bounded by Selwyn, Radcliffe, and Wellesley Avenues. The Georgian buildings constructed in 1914 when the college was moved to this site have been extensively remodeled and continue in use. Their architectural motif of red brick with white trim has been incorporated in the more modern buildings.

Burwell Hall

Burwell Hall, 1914, is the focal point of the campus facing Selwyn Avenue. The building, in addition to housing the administrative offices, has parlors which serve as a spacious reception area for guests and social events. Robert Burwell served as president of the Charlotte Female Institute from 1857 to 1872; and his wife, Margaret Anna Burwell, was teacher and principal.

Everett Library

Everett Library, 1960, is the center of the campus facing Radcliffe Avenue. It honors Herschel Hill Everett and his wife, Cornelia Nisbet Everett. Mr. Everett served as acting president, 1953-54; and chairman of the board, 1952-1967. The library houses the present collection of 83,000 volumes, and has a potential capacity for 200,000. It is an open stack library with conference rooms, lounges, student and faculty carrels, and microfilm equipment. The large mosaic tile mural on the facade depicts the areas of knowledge available within the liberal arts college.

Belk Chapel

Belk Chapel, 1950, was a gift made to Queens by the families and associates of William Henry Belk and Dr. John M. Belk, in their honor. Greek revival in architecture, it is equipped with a 39 rank organ, seats 750, and is used for weekly chapel and for other religious services and meetings.

E. H. Little Fine Arts Center

The E. H. Little Fine Arts Center, 1966, contains the Suzanne Trezevant Little Recital Hall, the Charles A. Dana Auditorium, studios, practice rooms, and classrooms for music and drama. Convocations, concerts, recitals, plays, and lectures are scheduled in the auditorium, which seats 1,000. Major donors of this facility were E. H. Little and Charles A. Dana.

Dana Classroom Building

The Dana Classroom Building, 1961, honors Charles A. Dana, a generous benefactor of Queens College, and contains a large lecture hall, a language laboratory, classrooms, and seminar offices designed for small, informal classes.

Walker Science Building

The Walker Science Building, 1966, with its laboratories, classrooms, and research facilities for biology, chemistry, and physics, honors Dr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Walker. He was Queens' former president and chancellor.

McEwen Hall

McEwen Hall, 1914, was renovated in 1967 to provide 20 spacious classrooms and a number of faculty offices. It is named for Dr. Mildred Morse McEwen, alumna and professor emeritus of chemistry.

Morrison Hall

Morrison Hall, 1927, is named for its donor, Mrs. Cameron Morrison, and includes a large dining hall, kitchen, auxiliary rooms, and dormitory space.

Jernigan Student Center

Jernigan Student Center, 1914, was completely renovated in 1963. It comprises the post office, bookstore, snack shop, lounges, and offices for student government and student publications. Charlton Coney Jernigan was president of Queens from 1951 to 1953.

Ovens Physical Education Building

Ovens Physical Education Building, 1954, includes a large gymnasium, classrooms, a dance studio, and an Olympic-size swimming pool. David Ovens, business executive and merchant, was a Queens trustee and benefactor.

Carol Hall

Carol Hall, 1957, was the gift of Irwin Belk, Queens trustee, and is named in honor of his wife, Carol Grotnes Belk. Located on Queens Road, this handsome private home was remodeled and now houses the art department and exhibition galleries. Two art annexes are adjacent to Carol Hall.

Barnhardt Center for Continuing Education

The William H. Barnhardt Center for Continuing Education, completed in 1965, honors Mr. and Mrs. William H. Barnhardt; Mr. Barnhardt is a member of the Board of Trustees.

Blair, Stultz, Tillett, Watkins Buildings

Four other buildings are named respectively for Dr. Elizabeth H. Blair, former dean of instruction; Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Stultz, donors; Miss Laura A. Tillett, professor emeritus of English; and Miss Mildred C. Watkins, member of the faculty from 1895 to 1909.

These buildings are used for administrative and instructional purposes.

Irwin-McKay Infirmary

The Irwin-McKay Infirmary, 1958, was the gift of Thomas M. Belk and his wife, Katherine McKay Belk, honoring Dr. John R. Irwin, Dr. Hamilton W. McKay, and Dr. Henderson Irwin. It provides 12 hospital beds, rooms for consultations and treatment, and quarters for resident nurses.

Residence Halls

Long, 1914, is named for Miss Lily W. Long, who served the college for half a century and was herself president from 1891 to 1899.

Belk, 1954, honors the late Mrs. William Henry Belk, alumna, trustee, and benefactor; it was a gift to Queens from Mrs. Belk's sons and daughter.

Harris, 1960, honors James J. Harris, vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees, and his wife, Angelia Morrison Harris.

Wallace, 1962, honors Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wallace and family. Mrs. Wallace was an alumna, and J. Mason Wallace, Jr., is a college trustee.

Albright, 1964, is named in honor of Miss Thelma Albright, formerly dean of students, and a long time faculty member at Queens.

Career and Personal Counseling Center

The center was established by the Synod of North Carolina in 1972-73. It serves the piedmont and western areas of North Carolina and has facilities providing for personal and vocational counseling, and testing. All services are available to Queens students.

Other Buildings

The campus includes three duplex lodges for sororities, a power plant, and maintenance shops. Several college residences are adjacent to the campus.

Lake Norman Campus

Queens also owns 231 acres of shore front property on Lake Norman, a popular recreational area 25 miles north of the campus. This property, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Belk, has a shore line of three-fourths of a mile; and while currently undeveloped, it is used for camping and picnics and is available for instruction in physical education and biology.
